Daily activities are carried on by students

BEGINNING EACH DAY at P.H.S. is the raising of the flags as done here by Danny Tullos and Dickie Robinson.

AS MR. COAKER gives the band and boosters instructions, drum majorette, Pinkie Humphries, appears to be bored with the situation.

EACH YEAR STUDENTS witness many improvements being made for the benefit of the student body. New and improved facilities, as well as additional classrooms, have been provided this year. The new library has become one of the finest in the state. New departments and new courses are being offered to prepare interested students in specific fields. A field of study added this year is Industrial Arts which prepares each enrolled student to use his hands in building items more efficiently.

With a demand for more space, additional offices and classrooms were constructed. Older classrooms were remodeled. A central system of air conditioning was added to the administrative offices, the library, and two wings of classes.

These physical improvements have served as a guide for the Kepi Staff. It has endeavored to produce an accurate pictorial record of the events that happened during the school year. An improvement in each section of the '69 Kepi has been the goal of the yearbook staff.

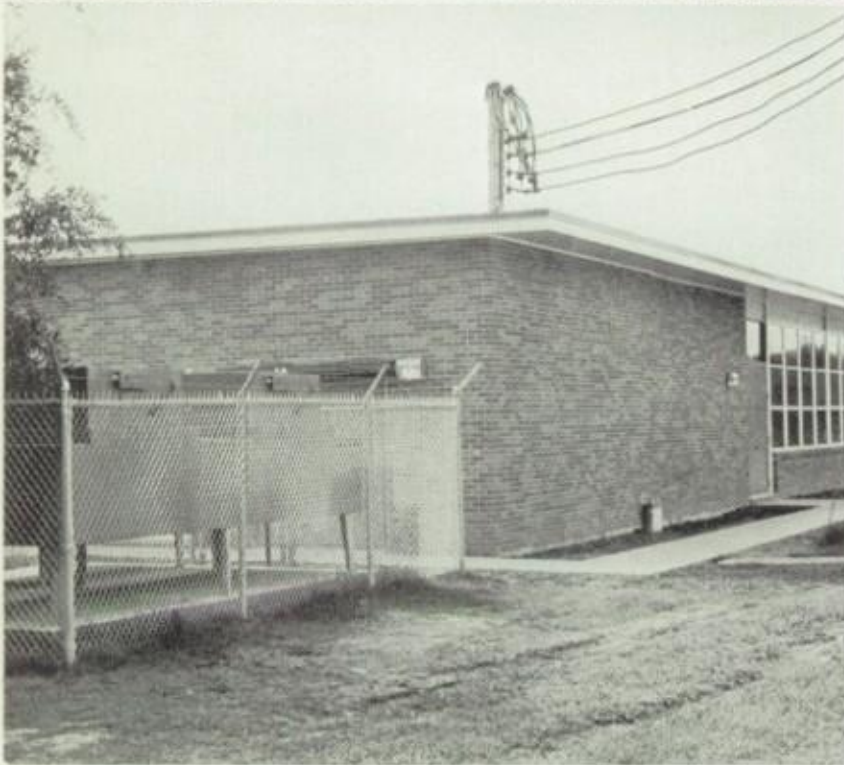

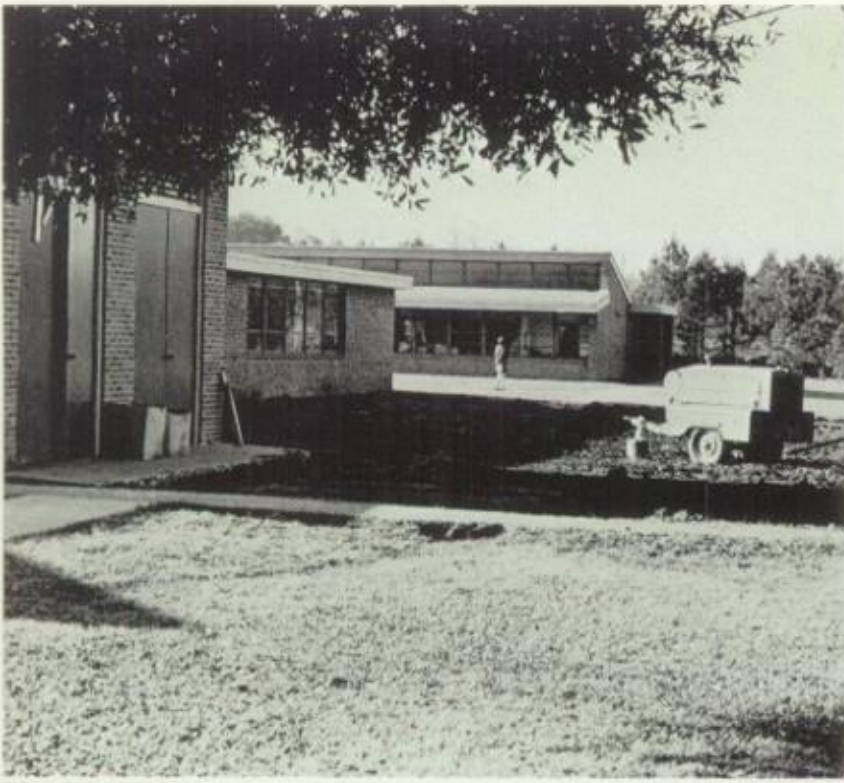

KEEPING FOUR-YEAR record cards up-to-date is one of the necessary duties performed by the guidance counselor, Miss Conerly.

STUDENTS' DEPARTURE marks the end of a typical day.

WALLACE R. BARRON
Principal
B.A., Louisiana College
M.Ed., Louisiana State University

OF UTMOST IMPORTANCE in any school is the person who provides leadership and guidance for the faculty and student body. Serving as principal of Pineville High School since 1957, Wallace R. Barron holds the welfare of the student as an uppermost goal. He is always willing to listen to the problems of student or teacher and to give advice that—through years of testing—has been proved true.

Mr. Barron participates in many professional organizations. These help him in obtaining and contributing ideas for a better school. He holds membership in the National Association of Secondary School Principals, Southern Association of Secondary Schools and Colleges, Phi Delta Kappa, and Louisiana Athletic Association.

It is to Mr. Barron that students and teachers, past and present, owe a deep feeling of gratitude and respect for his untiring efforts in their behalf.

SAMPLES OF SENIOR invitations on display in the trophy case draw the attention of Mr. Barron and Mrs. Coaker.

Administrative staff exhibits efficiency

JEFFIE R. WHITWORTH
 Secretary

ALTHOUGH HE ASSISTS the students and faculty in many areas, Mr. Cespiva, the assistant principal, has many duties of his own. He is in charge of the green registers and student discipline. He is also advisor for the newly formed Government Club. Serving as a teacher, Mr. Cespiva conducts a government and economics class.

Known around school for her interest, Miss Elaine Conerly has proven herself to be a valuable friend to student, teacher, and staff member. She provides counseling for students and gives academic guidance tests and information. She serves as advisor for the Pineville High School Press Club and takes an active part in school publicity.

Handling money, completing correspondence, and keeping attendance records represent a few of the valuable routine duties of Mrs. Whitworth. Although these duties require much of her time, she is always ready to be of assistance to Mr. Barron and Mr. Cespiva who find her to be a very efficient secretary.

UNDER THE SUPERVISION of Coach Crenshaw, Ted Brouillette and other 10th Grade students learn the importance of grammar.

ENGLISH STUDENTS take notes on how to review a book from material presented by Mrs. Hayden.

Language studies prove useful in many areas

WHILE MRS. ALSUP discusses the lesson with Rhonda Bordelon, Pat Clark starts her reading assignment and Cathy Willet, Martha Ray, and Jim Funderburk enjoy a moment's leisure.

AS MRS. PHARIS and Donna Gurnell demonstrate, posters often help students to visualize certain key points.

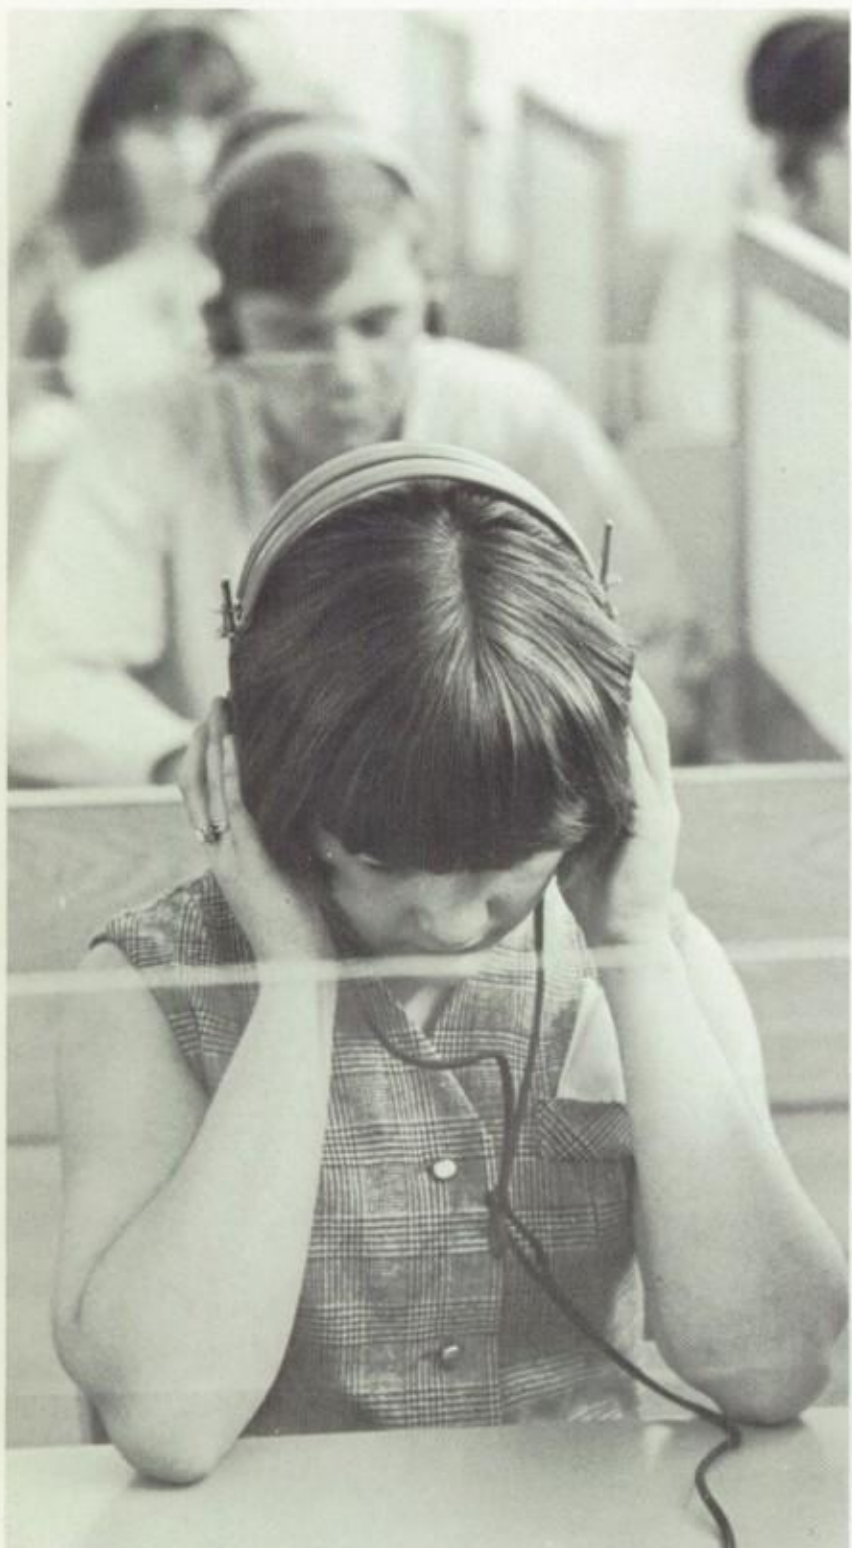

THE AIM OF the English Department is twofold: to widen the scope of the student and to teach him how to express himself to others. Ideas must be stated clearly and correctly in order to achieve the desired response. Therefore, English grammar places stress not only upon the importance of sentence and paragraph structures but also upon the choice of words.

Literature, an important part of any well-rounded education, gives the student an opportunity to see how other people think, feel, and react and thereby widens understanding.

Speech was once thought to be only for those who intended to become public figures. But now that the world has expanded so much, virtually all professions entail some type of public speaking whether it be extemporaneous or from a prepared text. For those who are interested in dramatics, the speech department produces a play each year.

Library and language lab provide learning

LISTENING TO prerecorded tapes, Sheryle Swain strives to obtain a better understanding of the French language.

AS PART OF its recent building program, Pineville High School has received a new library. Its facilities have been increased to the degree that it can seat fifty percent more students and still give each student more space. There is now a microfilm reading room, a typing room for students who wish to type their work, a speech therapy room, a workroom for processing new books, and a storage room for new classroom learning apparatus.

Language is the basis of all communication and so the Language Department has expanded its curriculum to include Latin as well as French. Latin, although it is a dead language, provides a basis for all Romance languages as well as English, and it gives the student who wishes to study these languages insight into their meaning. French I and French II are offered for those students who wish to study a specific modern language.

FRENCH I BECOMES more meaningful to Van Boyett, David Gatlin, Roy Erwin, and Stan Guillory as Mrs. Berent explains their lesson for the day.

FOLLOWING A SHORT STORY recording requires concentrated effort on the part of Issac Camacho and Stan Guillory while Mrs. Shipp adjusts the volume.

REMINDING MIKE GASPARD that neatness is important, Mr. Sexton looks on with interest.

SOCIAL STUDIES ARE the subjects which deal with all aspects of government, economics, and history. A two-semester elective course on government and economics is offered to seniors. Although usually taken in conjunction with each other, each semester operates independently. World History, an elective recommended for those who plan to attend college, tells the story of western civilization and how individuals of past years have made decisions which have shaped the world in which we live. One of the two social studies courses required for graduation is Civics. This gives the student an opportunity to see how the government of the United States operates and how it affects society. The other required course, American History, is offered during the student's senior year. To give the student an appreciation of this country's heritage is the primary aim of this course.

WHILE MR. CAPPEL records previous test grades, students begin their next assignment.

MATHEMATICS, the science of numbers, is used daily not only by the professional mathematician but also by the average individual. For this reason Pineville High School offers courses in senior math, Algebra I, Algebra II, geometry, and advanced math. In order to graduate, students must pass at least two of these courses. Senior math gives practical experience in problems which a person may face in businesses such as bookkeeping or income tax. Algebra I and II are taught for the purpose of giving and improving algebraic skills. Geometry, the study of two-dimensional figures, gives the fundamentals of planes and angles and teaches how to use them effectively. Advanced math is a conglomerate of all math skills wherein the student studies algebra, trigonometry, and fundamental calculus.

Mathematics is an essential science

CHEMISTRY STUDENTS find a good mathematics background valuable in solving chemical equations as illustrated by Miss Needham.

MAKING A CHART on the board proves to be a great asset to Peter Van Dyke in solving a problem.

PERPLEXING ALGEBRA II problems are made clear to the class by Mrs. Hines.

GEOMETRY STUDENTS Sharon Bonds and Joyceline Leckie follow closely as Miss Crump explains a chapter test.

Various science courses

SCIENCE BECOMES increasingly more important in our world as new discoveries are made every day. For those students interested in this field, Pineville High School offers three science courses—physics, chemistry, biology—as part of its curriculum.

Physics promotes the study of matter and energy and its transformations. Principles of heat, light, and electricity are the basis of physics.

Chemistry utilizes work in the laboratory as well as the classroom. Experiments are performed to determine chemical composition, actions, and reactions of elements and compounds. For the first time a two-hour course was offered to superior students. It provides an opportunity for them to apply their classroom theories in the laboratory.

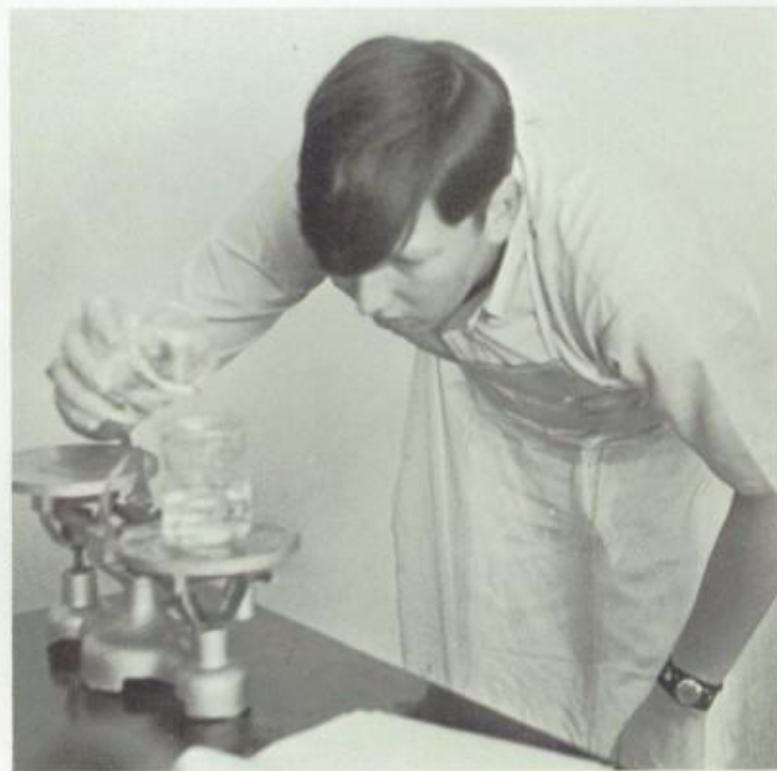

Biology, the study of living organisms, gives the student a basic introduction to the flora and fauna in the world around him.

DISCUSSION QUESTIONS in biology require the concentrated thought of Mrs. Reed.

in business education

PREPARING VISUAL AIDS to give better understanding to her students requires extra work by Mrs. Hackney.

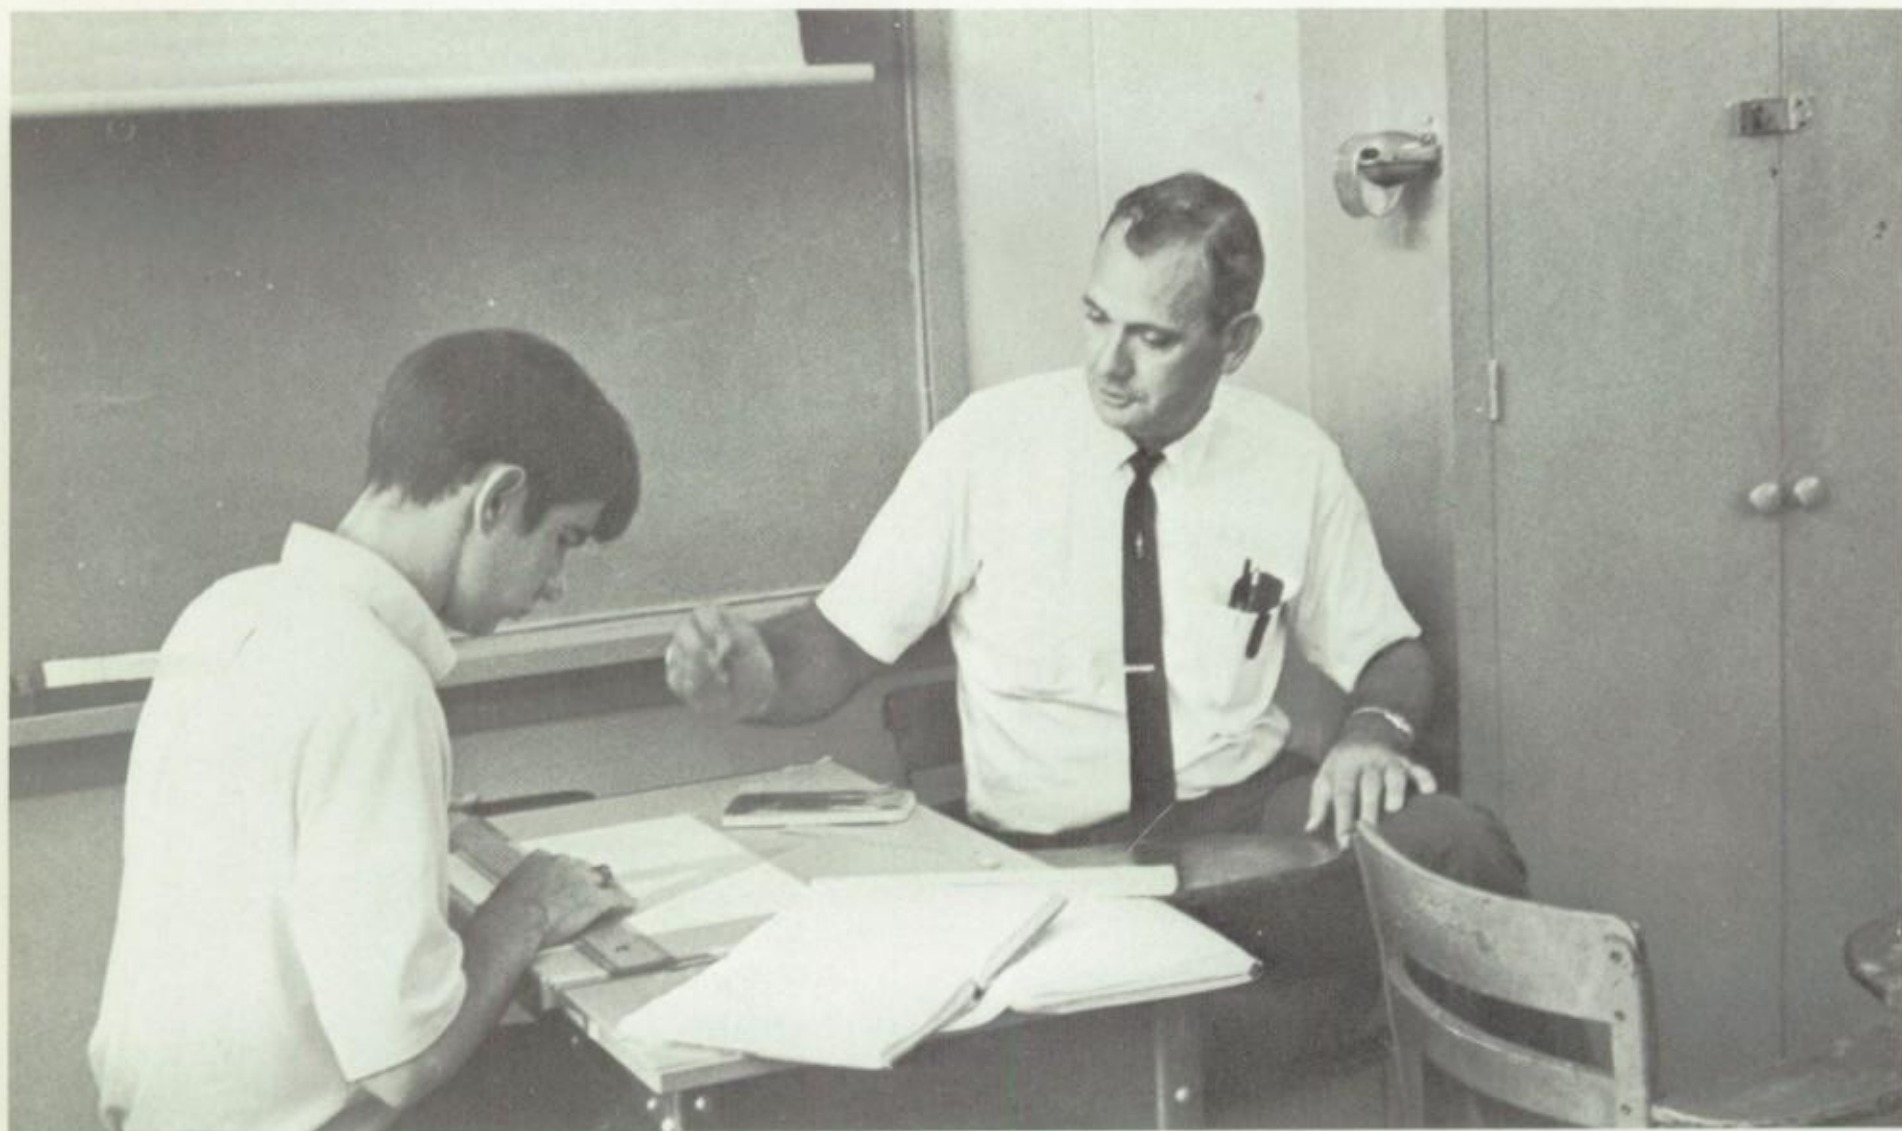

DAILY RECITATION, an important part of shorthand class, actively involves Carolyn Urrey.

BUSINESS EDUCATION is designed primarily for those students who plan to go directly into the world of business. Courses of instruction are typing, business machines, shorthand, secretarial office practice, distributive education, general business and bookkeeping. Many of these skills, such as typing and shorthand, are also useful to those who plan to attend college.

Distributive education allows students to receive practical experience in the business world. These students attend school for four hours a day and leave for work following the lunch break. They receive credit toward graduation as well as experience and pay. In order to be eligible for this program, the student must be a junior or a senior with a C-average and be recommended by two teachers.

Typing I and Typing II are offered for the purpose of gaining, improving, and advancing typing skills.

individual talents

HELPING YOUNG ladies learn skills and values to prepare them to become good wives, mothers, and responsible citizens are the goals of Home Economics courses offered at Pineville High School.

In Home Economics II, emphasis is placed on cooking and sewing. Techniques such as laying, cutting, and stitching garments are introduced to the students. In cooking, stress is placed on well balanced, nutritious, appetizing, as well as economical meals.

Third year Home Economics students are required to prepare and serve a complete meal and arrange an attractive table setting. In addition, pupils are taught to line a tailored suit and to improve their general sewing talents.

Home Economics IV deals with marriage and family living. Choosing a husband realistically, anticipating situations that may arise in marriage, and finding ways to meet these situations intelligently are discussed.

For the first time at Pineville High School, an Industrial Arts program is being offered. Basic skills of the woodworking trade are taught in the shop. Pupils have the opportunity to experiment with tools, materials, and equipment of various kinds. In addition to the basic skills, an attempt is made to teach the students to work together and to make useful employees in adult life.

PRESS AS YOU GO, is one of the essential rules followed by Mary Stallcup in completing her garment for Home Economics.

Music and art widen students' cultural horizons

THE SAXOPHONES, along with the other wind instruments, make up one of the principal sections of the band.

PRACTICING A NEW choral arrangement for Rebelaires are Jimmy Beeson, Dickie Robinson, Tom Ledet, Jerry Morgan, and Albert Galent, accompanied by Bonnie Hay and Vickie Salley.

EXTENSIVE TRAINING in the fields of art and music is offered at Pineville High School to encourage individual growth in creative ability and skill in each respective course.

Band rehearsals held each day and periodic section rehearsals provide an opportunity to develop better rhythm and technique which prepares students for precisioned public performances. A beginner band class is also available.

Chorus, another branch of music offered at Pineville High School, consists of an advanced as well as an intermediate class. Rebelaires, the advanced class, is the group that performs publicly at concerts and festivals, which provide an opportunity for students to exhibit accomplishments.

Understanding past and present art is one of the objectives of the art classes at Pineville High School. Opportunities for creativity are made available to students through lettering, color theory, painting, design, and block printing taught in Art I.

Pupils who are more advanced, enjoy working in sculpture, metal enameling and ceramics as well as painting in various mediums.

ART STUDENTS Betty Pharis and Gordon Daniel require imagination and numerous pictures to make colorful collages.

Physical Education stresses healthy mind and body

GREAT ENTHUSIASM is displayed in the athletic games played in gym classes.

TIPS ON IMPROVING his basketball techniques are given to Gordon Daniel by Coach Rucker.

IN ORDER for a person to develop himself to his full capacity, it is necessary that he have a sound body as well as a sound mind. Therefore, the aim of physical education is to develop strong bodies, qualities of leadership, good sportsmanship, and esprit de corps. Gym courses are required for four years for every student who is not physically unable. All students participate in a six-weeks course in health which includes basic instruction in first aid.

Girls' gym classes receive instruction in team sports—volleyball, softball, speedball, and bounce-ball—and in individual sports—golf, table tennis, and badminton. They also devote some time to dancing.

Boys' physical education classes participate in basketball, football, baseball, and track. All of these games are designed to develop skill, co-ordination, balance, and confidence. Prior to the beginning of these games, calisthenics are performed in order to loosen joints and muscles.

Campus Queen and Maid of Honor rank high in PINEVILLE HIGH SCHOOL'S student body annually chooses a girl from the graduating class to hold the title of Campus Queen. Debbie Wallace was selected this year to possess that title. Debbie is a Rebel Reporter, a varsity cheerleader, the Business Manager of the KEPI, the Chaplain for the Student Council, and a member of the Homecoming Court.

Karin Farrar is Maid of Honor. She serves as head cheerleader, president of the Senior class, Homecoming Queen, senior Y-Teen member, and Assistant Editor of the Ya-Hoo.

Favorites chosen were Becky Bates, Assistant Editor of the KEPI, president of the Student Council and historian in the Boosters; Pinkie Humphries, drum majorette, Editor-in-Chief of the Ya-Hoo, and senior Y-Teen member; Lisa Collins, varsity cheerleader, Dixie Darling, junior Y-Teen and FHA member; and Debbie Hayes, member of the Rebel Band, sophomore Y-Teen, and FHA.

work and excitement

HOMECOMING IS THE most anticipated occasion of the year at Pineville High School. Activities include a parade, a class reunion, the crowning of the queen, the dance, and of course, the big game.

On Thursday preceding the Rebel Homecoming game, a spirited parade was held on the main street of Pineville. Entries were judged on the basis of originality, theme, and effort. The winners were announced at the pep rally the following afternoon. The LTLA received permanent possession of the trophy after winning first place for the third consecutive year.

For the first time in the history of PHS, a class reunion was held. Members of the Class of 1958 organized a reunion for their class which included participation in various homecoming activities. It is hoped that this will be only the first of many class reunions.

In previous years the Homecoming Queen had been announced prior to the game. The identity of this year's queen was withheld until halftime that evening. She was presented to the crowd at that time. The contestants were those girls who had sold the most season football tickets. The queen was then chosen by the members of the football team.

Decorations for the Homecoming Dance transformed the gymnasium into a carnival complete with sideshow and ferris wheel. The dance climaxed a very successful homecoming.

ALL ANTICIPATION OVER, the queen crowned, members of the court settle back to watch the game.

DRIVING TOWARD VICTORY in the Rebel Homecoming parade are Mr. Beeson, Mrs. Bowen, Mrs. Coaker, Miss Needham, and Patsy Estes.

Rebs post 6-4 season

LEAPING HIGH, Rebel linemen prepare for the coming season by executing drills in spring practice.

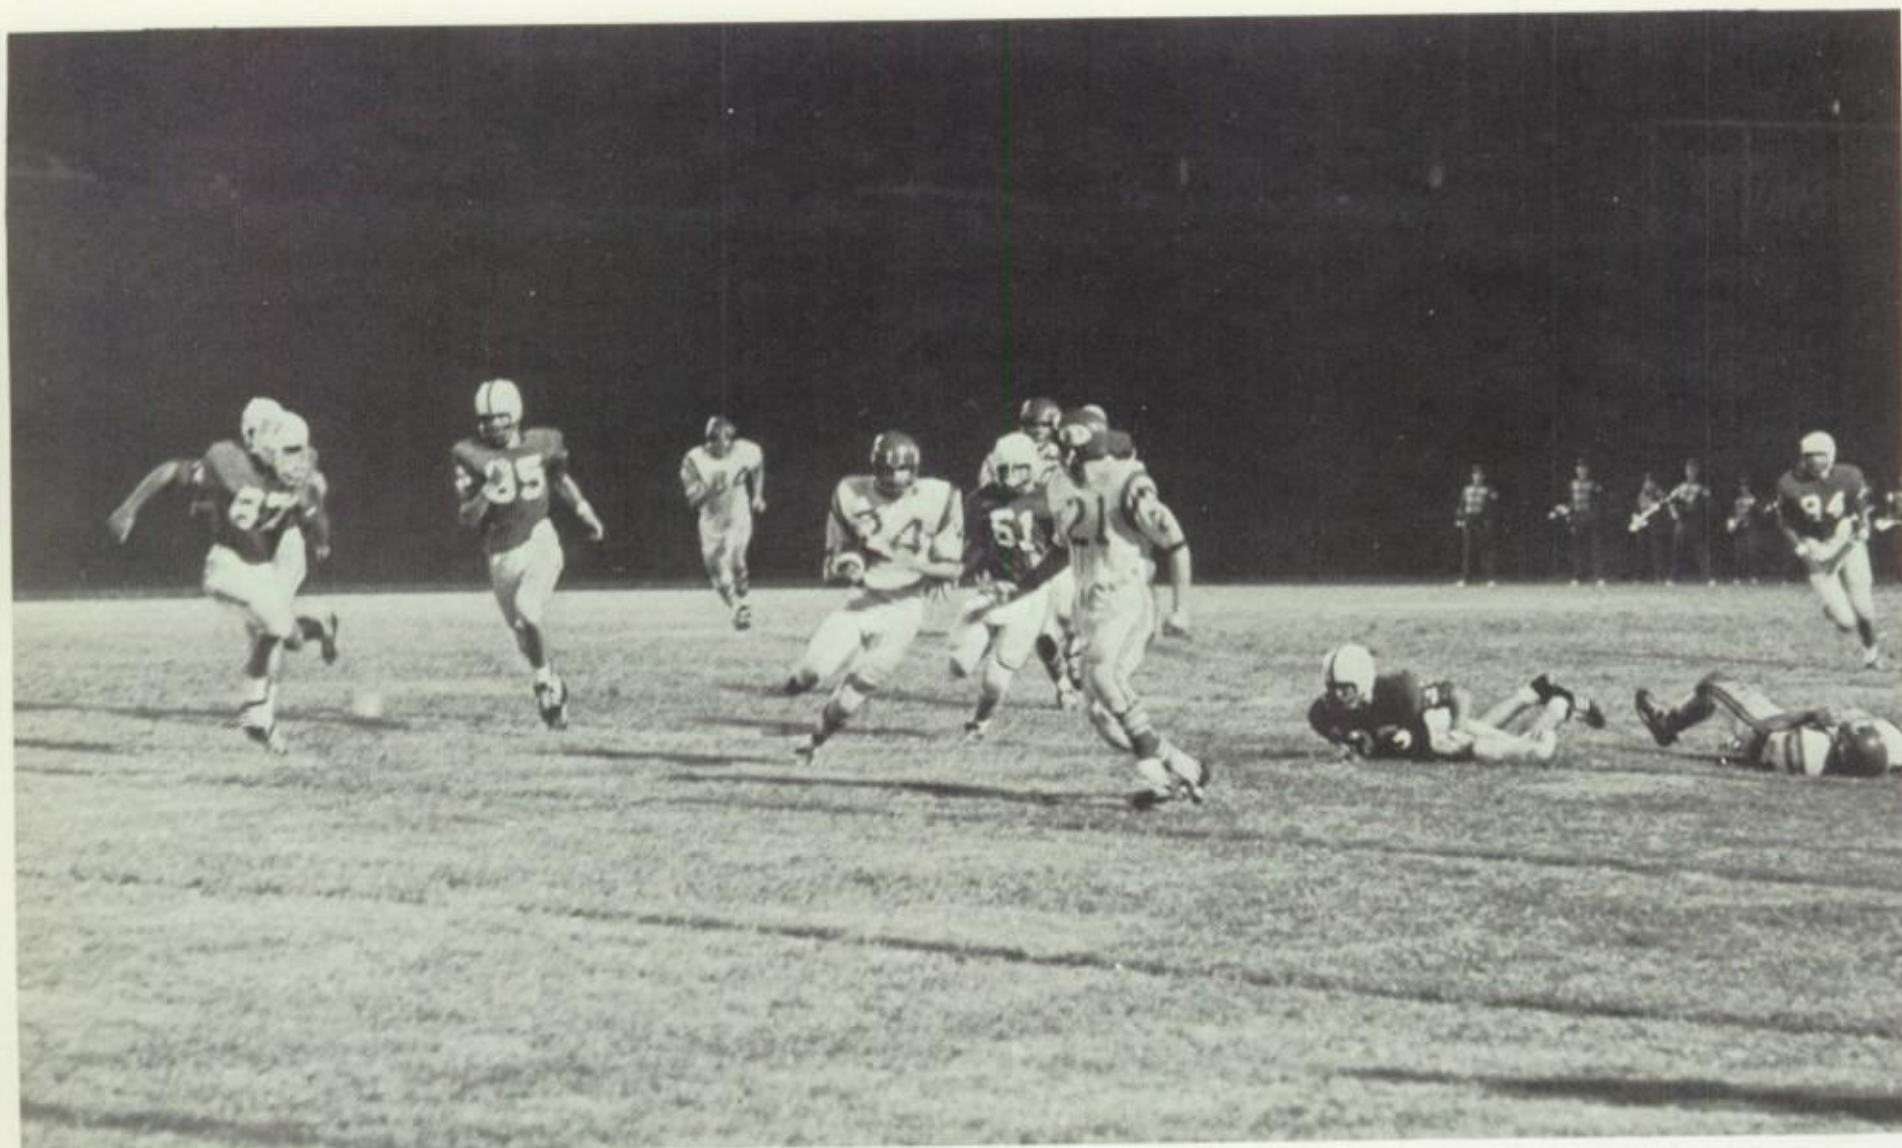

TO PROVE THAT their sterling performance of last year was no fluke, the Pineville Rebels, defending 3-AA Champs, opened their season with the Rapides Jamboree. Playing both Tioga and Buckeye, the Rebs, with a TD each by Ronnie Waites and Ronnie Delrie, posted identical 7 to 0 wins over both. Although graduation claimed eleven players from the ranks of the Rebel squad, the 1968-69 Rebel gridders showed promise.

On September 6, the team opened their regular season as champions should. After a scoreless first quarter, veteran Ronnie Waites began to move the team, capping the drive with a 26 yard scoring dash. Before the hopeless Dragons could stop reeling, halfback Ronnie Delrie had scored two TD's. Ray Boone took the second half kickoff and raced for a 75 yard TD. Against the second stringers, DeRidder managed to score, making the score 27 to 6 in favor of the "Raging Rebels."

Perhaps overconfident from the DeRidder game, the Rebel team met a fairly tough Winnfield eleven. The Rebs moved the ball with comparative ease, but their attack sputtered four times within the Tiger's 30 yard line. After three scoreless quarters, Winnfield scored, but missed the PAT attempt. Pineville took the ensuing kickoff and rolled down the field like pros. A four yard Waites to Galbraith pass tied the score until Waites booted the PAT. Winnfield could not score in time. Final score: Pineville 7, Winnfield 6.

SPEAKING WORDS OF encouragement to athletes, Carl Maddox delivered a challenging message at the all-sports banquet.

CUTTING BEHIND Delrie to pick up a block, Ray Boone races up the sideline against Winnfield.

ON SEPTEMBER 20, Pineville ended a three game home stand on a dismal note, losing to Baton Rouge High. Besides losing the game by a 33 to 7 score, the Rebels also lost the services of first string center, James Decker.

After Waites was slightly injured, Rodney Henry acted as QB and turned in a performance that earned him the "Back of the Week" award. A Henry to Clarius 46 yard pass put the Rebels in position for scoring, a one yard sneak by Henry.

When they journeyed to Jena for their first district conflict, the Rebels came from behind on TD's by a Henry to Clarius toss and a sneak by Waites. The Rebels led 14 to 6 at halftime.

Following a fourth quarter fumble by the Rebels, Jena scored and trailed 14 to 13. On the ensuing kickoff, senior halfback Ray Boone set up a 5 yard scoring plunge by Waites. The 21 to 13 score was final.

Playing one of the best Double-A teams in the state, the Winnsboro Wildcats, the Fighting Rebels went down in defeat. The Rebels scored first—a safety by Dickie Robinson. The Rebels then took the ball and drove to the Winnsboro 7 yard line. By that time the Rebels could not launch another drive, and Winnsboro had scored three times. Sparked by a Henry to Clarius 36 yard pass, the drive was capped by a 5 yard run by Delrie. However, Winnsboro roared back with three more scores to make the final score Wildcats 40, Rebels 9.

Defending a string of six wins in district play, the Rebels met Menard. Defense saved the Rebs who edged a 7 to 6 victory. On the Rebels' first offensive play, senior fullback, Ronnie Delrie raced 46 yards to set up Pineville's lone score. Four plays later, Ray Boone scored from the 9. Mike Vercher's kick was good, and the Rebels led 7 to 0. Outstanding defensive plays prevented a Menard score. However, a Menard interception in the third quarter resulted in an Eagle TD. The PAT attempt was blocked by Ray Boone.

On October 18, Homecoming for Pineville, the team capped a great day by running roughshod over the hapless Marksville Tigers. The Rebs scored first, on a 9 yard dash by Delrie, set up by a fumble recovery by Mike Gaspard. Marksville returned the kickoff for a score but Delrie roared back with one for the Rebels. Marksville allowed another score before the end of the half.

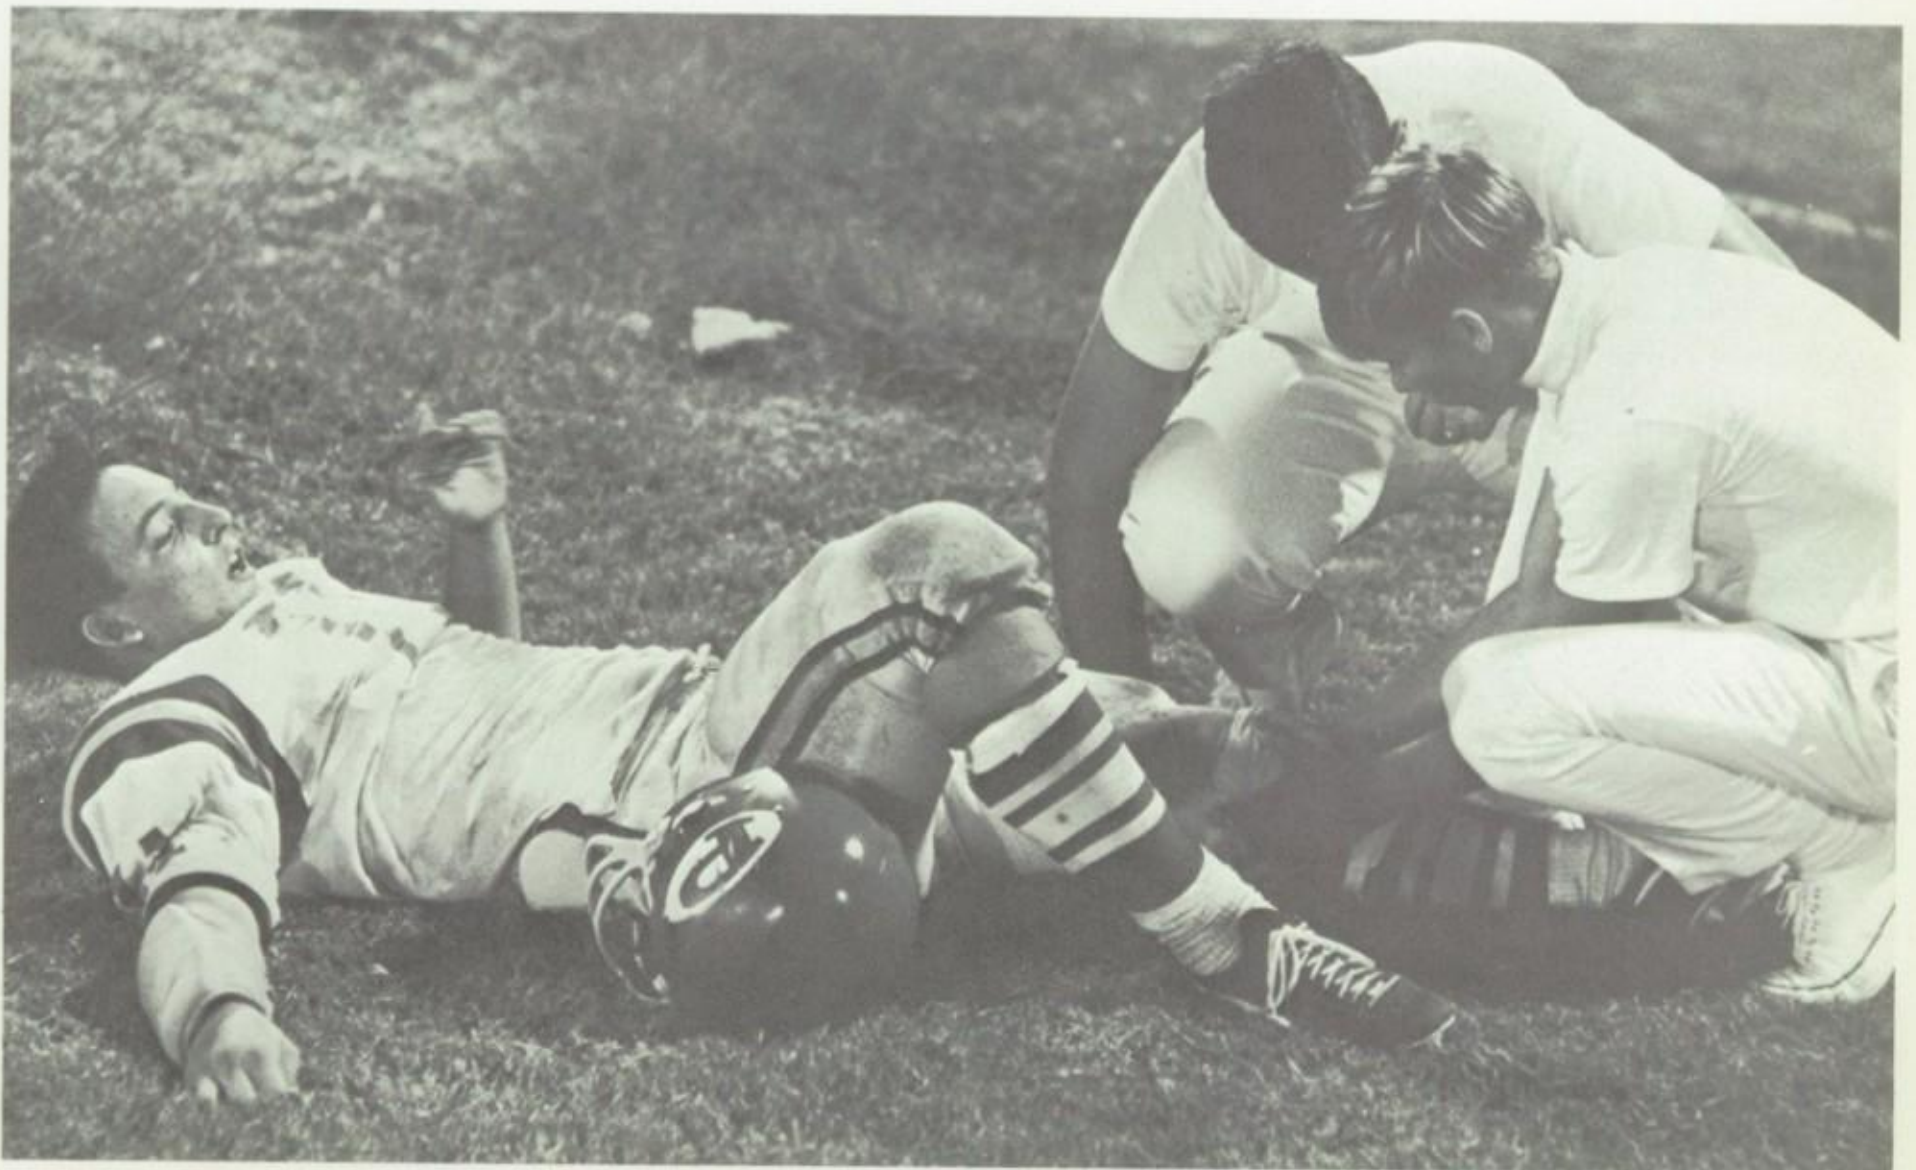

After a Henry to Galbraith scoring pass, some of the subs aided in the last score, a 75 yard pass from Henry to Boone. Marksville scored late in the game, and the scoreboard registered a 34-13 victory for the Rebels.

THE REBELS' hopes of repeating as district champions were jolted when they met Natchitoches. Natchitoches scored two quick touchdowns before the Confederates could settle down. Then the Rebs took the ball and marched for the score with Delrie going over from the 3 yard line. The Devils scored later in the first half to post a 19 to 7 halftime score. Pineville seemed to wilt before the vicious play of Natchitoches in the second half, and the Devils added three TD's and a safety to make the final score a crushing 40 to 7.

After the disastrous Natchitoches game, the Rebels lost their second straight game, a 25 to 7 decision to Leesville. Leesville, displaying a dynamic offense and tough defense contained the Rebels the entire night. Leesville scored twice the first half while Pineville only managed one drive which died inside the Leesville 20 yard line. Leesville scored twice more in the second half. Ray dispelled the thought of a shutout, breaking through to block a punt which Jerry Morgan scooped up and raced 32 yards for Pineville's lone score.

District play results in 4 wins

FACED WITH THE prospect of placing fourth in district, the Pineville Rebs came through with a supreme effort, defeating Tioga 12 to 7. QB Henry opened the game with a 28 yard pass to Vercher, which proved the key play of a 47 yard drive, climaxed by a five yard TD pass to Galbraith. Pineville struck again in the second quarter—a six yard dash by Delrie, set up by a fumble recovery by Dwight Gintz.

Tioga came alive in the second half, driving for a quick score. Later the Indians drove to the Pineville 2 yard line with a first and goal situation. Pineville's line held at its one foot line to preserve victory.

Pineville posted a 6-4 season, not a perfect season, but a winning one. With their victory over Tioga, they clinched a three way tie for the second place in the district. Fifteen players will be lost to graduation, but their shoes should be ably filled by underclassmen.

GIVING INSTRUCTIONS to quarterback Ronnie Waites is Coach Yates.

Rebels tie for District Crown

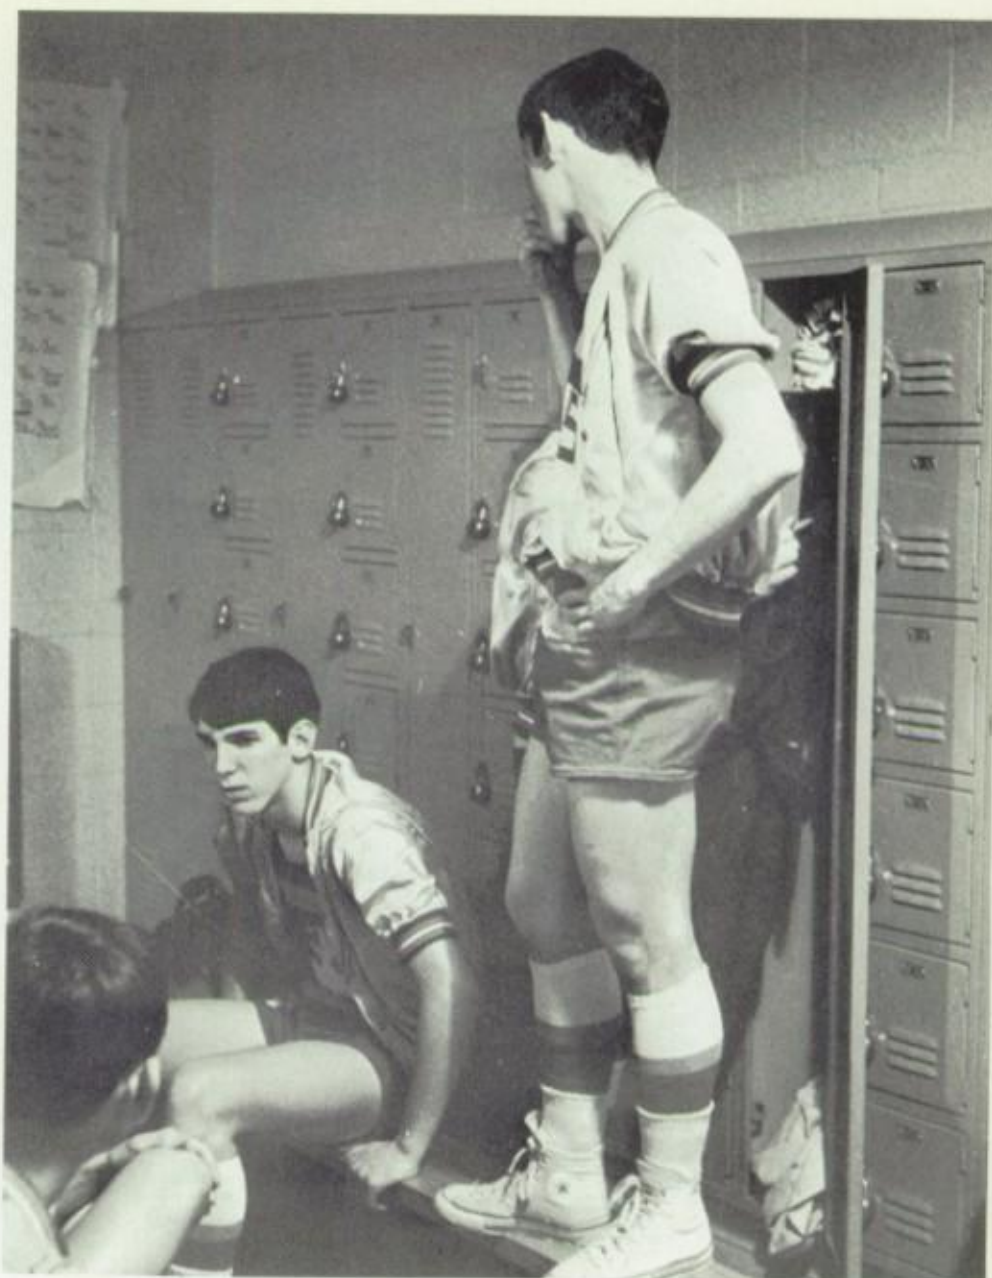

OPENING THEIR season against powerful arch-rival Bolton, the Pineville Rebels experienced a terrible case of first game nerves. Bolton swept the Rebels off the court with a tough defense and a fast-breaking offense. Determined to get on the winning side, the Rebels went on a three game road trip and emerged victorious over Oakdale, Block, and Bunkie. Home again for the Pineville Tournament, the Confederates posted three more wins over Bunkie, Poland, and Marksville. The "never die" Rebels ran their win streak to seven straight games by defeating Bolton at Bolton. The game was an exciting see-sawing affair with Pineville emerging a one-point victor. At this point, the Pineville cagers entered the toughest portion of their schedule—three tournaments in two weeks. In the Tioga Tourney, the Rebs had a bad night against Bolton and placed third overall.

REB CAGERS Marty McKay, Ronnie Price, and Tommy Besson wait in great anticipation as Stan Beeson drives in for a lay-up.

Spirited Rebels display much talent

THE BALL IS up for grabs as Ronnie Price strains against an Eagle for tip.

FROM THE free throw line, Tommy Besson sinks one against Menard.

THE REBELS took a quick break to defeat Oakdale before entering Menard Tournament. The Rebels breezed to the finals, posting in the process a 97 to 65 win over Montgomery. The final game celebrated another incident in an old rivalry, Tioga vs. Pineville. Pineville, forced to compete with two starters missing, went down in a 3 point defeat.

Next the Rebs competed in the Rapides Parish Tournament and placed second. After a break for New Year's, the Confederates made a dismal entry into district play, losing two straight games to Natchitoches and Jena. The Rebels eyed the next 12 games left in their regular season and pledged revenge. They began their comeback by journeying to Tioga and emerging victorious. Next, they beat Rapides and posted a big non-district win. At home against Leesville, the Rebels looked like champions during the first half, fairly blowing the visiting Wampus Cats off the court. Leesville came back with a tough zone defense and nearly staged a terrific comeback. The Rebels hung on though, and posted a five point victory.

Rebel cagers show steady

AT MENARD THE Rebs underwent a lethargic first quarter before coming alive and scoring a decisive win. After running roughshod over the hapless Marksville Tigers, the Pineville cagers girded themselves for a return match with Jena. After leading the entire game, the Rebs momentarily slipped, and the game went into overtime. In the overtime period, guard Vic Sooter exhibited a fine clutch performance at the foul line to aid the team in posting a big four point victory. Now came the supreme test for the Rebels. Could they dispell the magic of the home court that seemed so often to prevail at Natchitoches? After a hard fought first half that ended in a tie, the Rebels, bouyed by the fine shooting of center Ronnie Price, began to pull away. When the smoke had cleared, Pineville was on top by six points, thus chalking up the biggest win of the season.

After these two victories, the rest of the season was almost a breeze, as the Rebels simply out-classed the remainder of their regular season opponents. Wins over Tioga, Rapides, Leesville, Menard, and Marksville ran the Rebels' win streak to 12 games and assured them a first place tie in district play. The season afforded the Rebs with a bid for the play-offs.

TWO MORE POINTS are added to the Rebel score by Stan Beeson as a DeRidder player tries in vain to block his shot.

BECAUSE THE REBELS concluded their regular season as co-champions of District 3-AA, they were obligated to participate in a placement game against the Natchitoches Red Devils with whom the Rebels shared the title. Both teams met on the neutral court of the Bolton High School gymnasium. Although the Rebel team played an evenly matched contest for the majority of the game, they found themselves behind as the final buzzer sounded.

As a result of their defeat by Natchitoches, the Pineville Rebels were forced to travel to DeRidder for their first playoff game. Again the Rebels played a very close game and were seemingly headed for victory in the final quarter. After several turnovers, the Rebels again found themselves behind and were never able to regain their lead.

Thus ended the 1968-69 Rebel basketball season. With a very commendable record for the year—26 games won, 8 games lost—the Rebel team has displayed its fine ability, high spirit, and well-deserved pride.

LED BY LETTERMEN Larry Miller, Grady Welch, Harry Frazer, Doug Peart, Marty McKay, Stan Beeson, Ronnie Waites, Ray Boone, Russell Hine, Bruce Galbraith, Billy Craig, William Cavanaugh, and Richard Bordelon, the thinclads of Pineville enjoyed a successful season. The team won one meet, placed 2nd in two, and third in three meets. The Confederates were paced by Most Valuable Player, Harry Frazer. Harry, a sprinter and relay man, led the team in scoring with 78 points. Other team leaders were senior sprinters Grady Welch and Larry Miller, and junior Marty McKay, winner of the Region I Broad Jump.

The high point of the season came when eight cindermen participated in the Belzoni Mississippi Invitational and would have won the meet but for costly injuries.

The Rebels placed well in the District Meet, and were led in the Regional Meet by first place finishes in the 440 Relay and Broad Jump. The Rebels placed in two relays in the State Meet, in spite of an injury to key runner Larry Miller.

The Rebels competed in the following meets: Leesville Quadrangular, 44 pts. for 2nd place, Bolton Triangular, 55 pts. for 2nd, Rebel Relays, 43 pts. for 3rd, Bolton Relays, 43 pts. for 4th, Cenla Rally, 106 pts. for 1st, Belzoni, Mississippi, 40 pts. for 3rd, USL Relays, 8 pts. for 8th, NSC Relays, 27 pts. for 6th, District 3-AA, 52 pts. for 3rd, Region I, 34 pts. for 4th, and State AA, 6 pts. for 14th.

COMPOSED OF representatives, one elected from each homeroom by the students, the PHS Student Council serves as an example of a working democracy. Its aims include maximum pupil participation in school activities, the promotion of school spirit, and the encouragement of loyalty, friendliness, and fair play. In addition, the student council sponsors school elections and seeks to promote a harmonious relationship among students, faculty, and administration.

The student council plans and sponsors many special activities during the year. During the first week of school, "Howdy Week" was proclaimed to acquaint the sophomores with the other students and members of the faculty and administration. Included among its many service projects this year was "Operation Hard Candy," a drive to provide Halloween candy for children at Pinecrest State School; "Operation Food Basket," a drive to collect food and cash donations to make Thanksgiving truly a memorable occasion for several needy families in the area; and the publication and sale of the "Rebel Roll Call," a directory containing the names and telephone numbers of the student body. In addition, the student council wished members of the faculty and administration a very "Merry Christmas" with a gaily tied gift of Christmas cookies and candies.

Outstanding

MANY WORTHWHILE activities exist for the student during the summer. Among the finest are Leadership Conference and Pelican State. These two programs are considerably different, but each is dedicated to developing a well-rounded student.

Pelican State delegates are chosen by the faculty on the basis of their character, service, scholarship, and loyalty. Being a program of training in the mechanics of government, Pelican State introduces the student to the laws by which he lives and stresses the importance of understanding them.

Delegates to Leadership Conference, which is held annually on the Louisiana State campus, are trained in their fields of interest. These fields may range from yearbook publications to library science. Each student returns eager to use his knowledge of the betterment of his high school.

ATTENDING 1968 PELICAN STATE were Stan Pearson, Robert Salley, and Paulette Hennigan.

BEFORE GOING into class at Louisiana College, pilot students Brenda Collins, Becky Bates, and Janis Cespiva quickly glance over their assignment.

EACH YEAR, students between their junior and senior years are permitted to attend college, take regularly-scheduled courses, and receive credit toward graduation from college. Admission to the program is limited to students who have a high scholastic average and show high potential. This program gives the superior student a chance to gain valuable experience in college life, to acquire knowledge in various fields of interest, and to help prepare him for life as a full-fledged college student. During this past summer, ten students from PHS participated in the Pilot Programs at Louisiana College in Pineville and Louisiana Polytechnic Institute at Ruston. All participants in the program agreed the experience was interesting as well as informative.

AS A PART OF the NHS installation program, Bruce Galbraith, a new member, receives a certificate from Mr. Barron.

MEMBERS OF THE R. C. Hale Chapter of the National Honor Society are chosen on the basis of scholarship, leadership, character, and service. Faculty members must approve each prospective member. After admission, each student must maintain a "B" average with no more than one "C" in any subject. During the year, the NHS performs numerous services including beautifying the school and making "spirit signs." In hopes of encouraging higher grades, the club presents a plaque to the homeroom with the highest six-weeks average scholastically.

KEY CLUBS of America, under the guidance of Kiwanis International, operate under the basic principles of its parent organization. Service to school and country is its foremost ideal. Invitations to join Key Club are extended to those high school boys who have displayed character, leadership, and service. Each year, the Key Club members select ten Dixie Darlings. From these ten, one girl is chosen as Key Club Sweetheart and is honored at the annual Key Club Banquet.

Press Club promotes school publicity

HEARD ON KDBS every Saturday morning are the Rebel Reporters, Debbie Wallace and Kristie Keeth, who broadcast Rebel's Report.

STUDENTS WHO show interest and ability in the field of journalism by working on the Kepi or Ya-Hoo staffs are invited to be a part of the PHS Press Club. As members, the students are required to submit news of the school through the newspaper and radio.

Each Saturday morning a regular program, "Rebels' Report," is broadcast by members of the club. Clippings from the newspapers concerning past and present students of PHS are incorporated into a scrapbook and displayed at several school activities.

PREPARATIONS FOR the next Press Club meeting are being made by officers Stan Beeson, Becky Bates, and Brenda Collins.

TO BEGIN THE new school year, the Thespians installed their new officers and initiated fifteen new members. This speech-oriented group is mainly interested in debate and dramatics; therefore, the club's activities are centered around this field.

Future club plans include such activities as helping in many aspects of the school spring play and learning the techniques of applying make-up for dramatic purposes. To prepare its members for life vocations, this group also plans to study the different areas of speech one can enter as a profession and also to obtain some inside information of the field of radio from an outside speaker of this area.

and exhibit school spirit

REBEL MISSES AND fans support Rebel effort with much enthusiasm.

MANY LONG HOURS of working toward perfection are spent by Rebel Misses in an effort to provide a delightful and entertaining half-time show. Beginning in late summer and continuing throughout the entire football season, these girls practice twice a week to prepare themselves for the presentations. Correct marching fundamentals must be learned by each member.

Participants in Rebel Misses must meet certain standards before they are accepted into the club. Candidates for membership are chosen on the basis of character, leadership, and scholarship. To remain in the club, each Rebel Miss must maintain a 2.0 average with no grade lower than a "C."

Activities of the Rebel Misses include not only attending football games but also supporting basketball and track. This year, the group also marched in the annual Homecoming parade and held a tea for Parents' Night.

1968 REBEL MISS OFFICERS are Shirley Snyder, Captain; Kristie Keeth, 1st Lieutenant; Lynn Smith, 2nd Lieutenant; Pat Fournet, Secretary; Becky Bates, Historian; Sharon Vallery, Chaplain.

AS A RESULT OF the previous Rebel action, Roxanne Gaspard and Rita Sharbano show their approval as Jo Tufts looks on calmly.

Loyal school spirit shown by Li'l Misses

BECAUSE THE REBEL team is leading the game by a wide margin, Li'l Misses, Sally Owen, Weslyn Green, and Lynn Bennett, offer support but lack enthusiasm.

FAITHFUL LI'L MISS, Betty Stehr, offers valuable assistance to cheerleader, Debbie Wallace, in pre-game preparations.

LI'L MISSES IS the junior auxiliary of the Rebel Misses. Girls who wish to become Rebel Misses must first serve one year of apprenticeship in the Li'l Misses. Members serve Pineville High at athletic games by selling programs and refreshments and by assisting the Rebel Misses in their half-time formations. Membership in Li'l Misses is open to girls who have displayed scholarship, character, leadership and willingness to serve. Leading the Li'l Misses is the job of the second lieutenant of the Rebel Misses. She is responsible for teaching the Li'l Misses the hand-signals and preparing them for membership in Rebel Misses.

CHEERING DIRECTIONS must be followed by Li'l Misses from cheerleaders and booster officers.

1968-69 REBEL CHEERLEADERS, FIRST ROW: Debbie Wallace, Karin Farrar—Head Cheerleader, Eva Zaorski. SECOND ROW: Susann Lofton, Betty Williams, Lisa Collins.

CHEERING SQUAD and Rebel fans are led by the cheerleaders in spirited chants.

ADDING THAT EXTRA sparkle and pep to many sports events, PHS cheerleaders work tirelessly to increase Rebel spirit. They constantly contribute to the school by making pep signs, leading pep rallies, and being dedicated Rebel fans.

Six pepsters are elected each year by the student body. Immediately after their election, they start planning the many skits and spirit campaigns which are important parts of their year of hard work. This year, they led pep rallies for every football game, cheered many hours at basketball games, and boosted spirit at track meets.

They are indeed to be thanked for their dedication to the Rebel student body, athletes, and faculty.

DRUM MAJORETTE
Pinkie Humphries

REBEL MAJORETTES FOR 1968-69,
Sue White and Cathy Willet.

ADDING TO THE variety of the half-time presentations are the drum majorette and the majorettes who create an atmosphere of excitement. These girls perform precisioned routines prepared for by many hours of work.

Duties expected from drum majorette, Pinkie Humphries, include conducting the weekly practices as well as helping other band members learn marching fundamentals. She also directs the music presented at half-time.

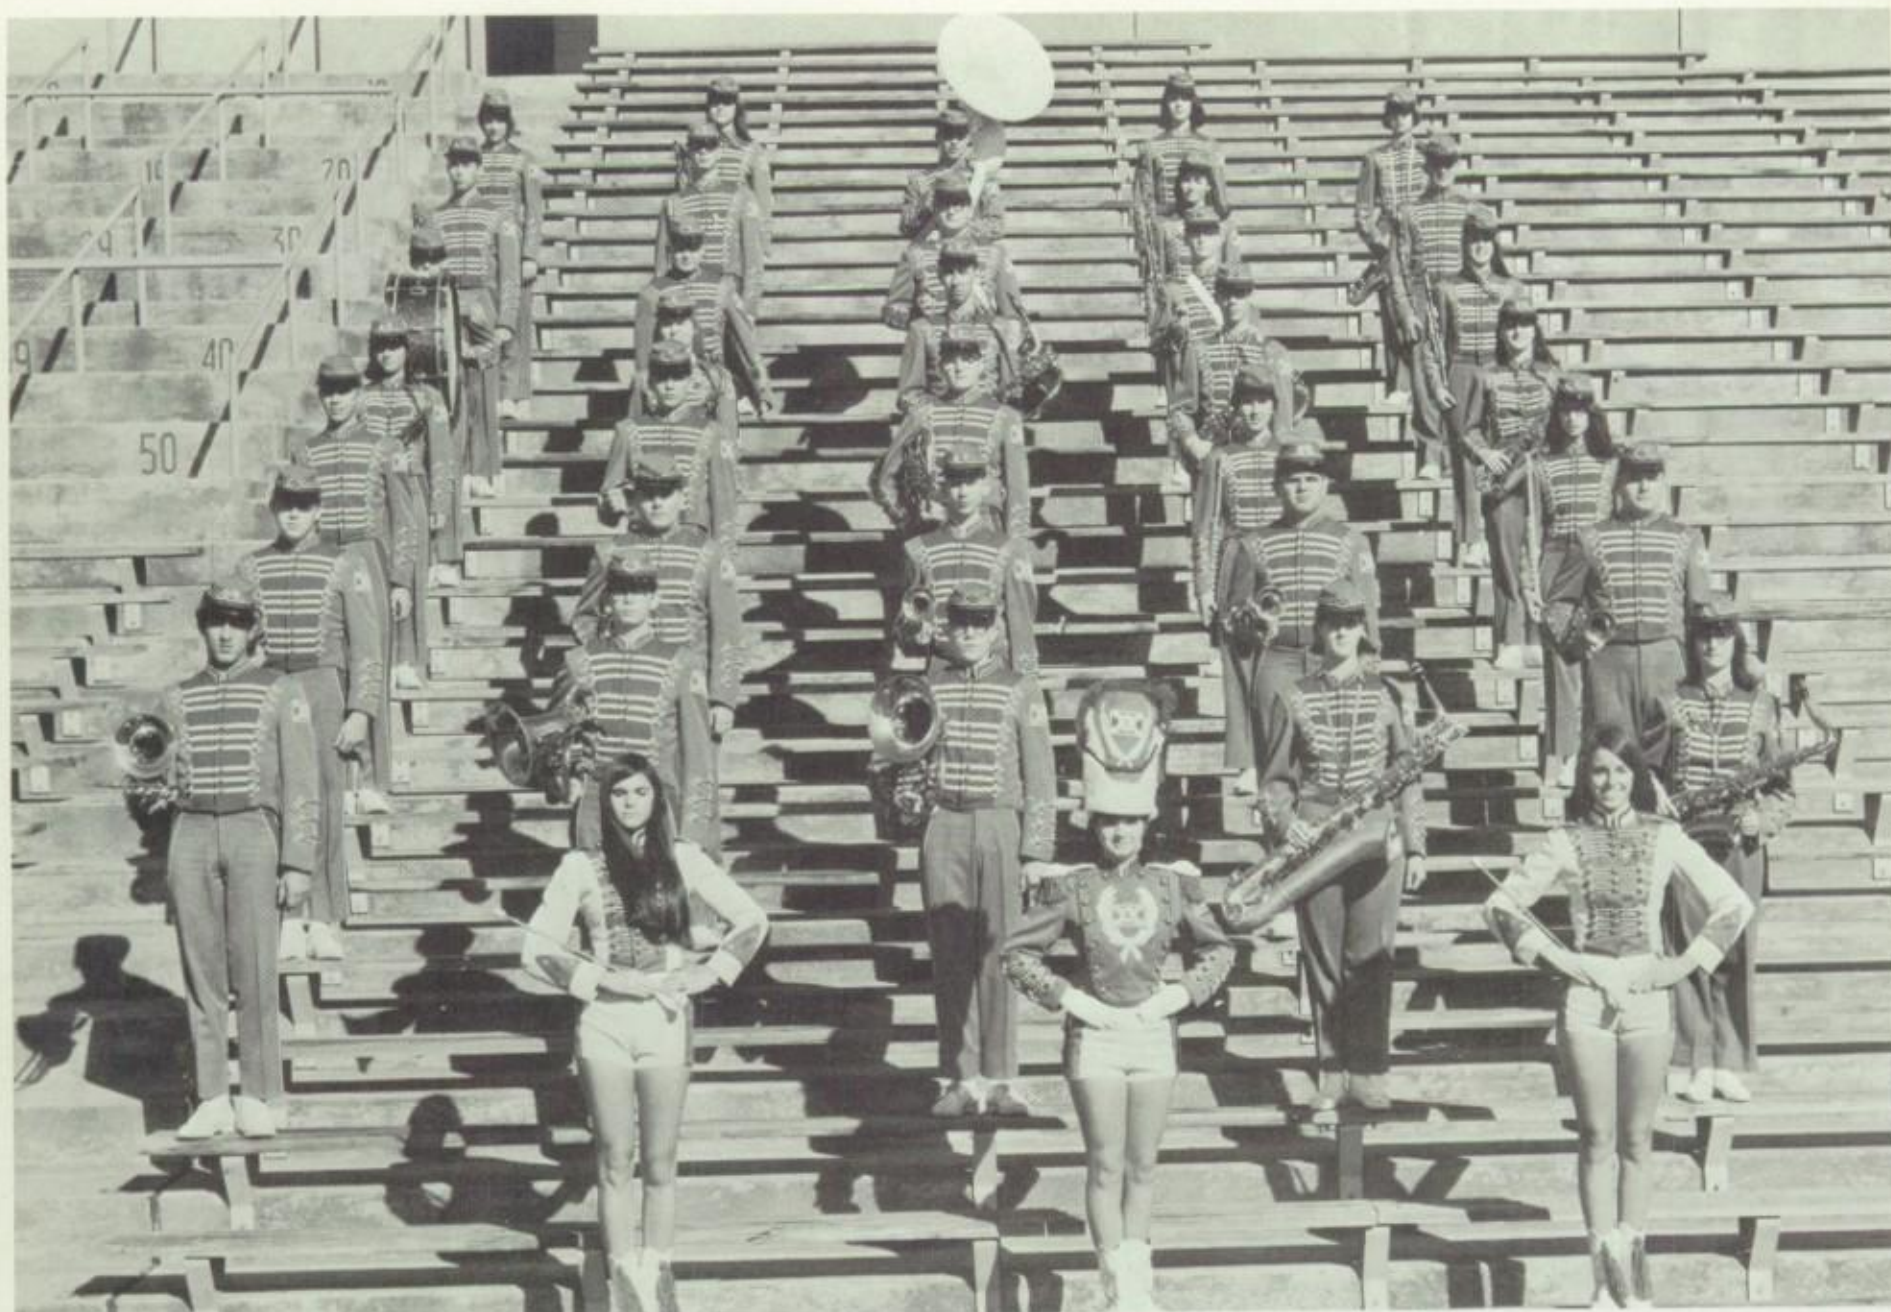

Learning colorful and skillful routines occupies time of the two Rebel majorettes. In order to be well-prepared, both girls, Sue White and Cathy Willet, attended majorette workshops during the summer.

BEFORE TIME FOR the show, majorettes Sue White and Cathy Willet find time to warm-up.

PRACTICE SESSIONS for halftime presentations require the leadership of drum majorette, Pinkie Humphries.

VERY IMPORTANT to the band's spirit and beat are drummers Richard Ducker and Mike Migues.

CLAMORING CADENCES of drums and rhythmic sounds of shuffling feet mark the entrance of the Rebel Band. By practicing twice weekly, beginning in summer and continuing throughout the entire football season, the marching Rebels assure their audience of an entertaining half-time presentation.

Creating an air of enthusiasm and excitement, the Rebel Band livens spirit at pep rallies and football games by playing brisk marches and show tunes. Appearances were made by the band in the Homecoming Parade and also in the annual Alexandria Jaycee Christmas Parade in which the band won second place.

In order to finance trips and projects undertaken by the group, the annual candy sale which occupied a great deal of the members' time was held.

Concert band members

DELIGHTFUL AND ENTERTAINING music was enjoyed by the student body at the annual Christmas assembly.

LONG HOURS OF hard work are exerted to improve the overall musicianship of each member of the concert band and to assure the band of an exact and balanced sound. Throughout the concert season, the students have the chance to sight-read as well as to become accustomed to playing and performing all types of musical selections.

In the spring, the annual concert is held to display the musical accomplishments of the organization. Awards are presented to the outstanding members of this group.

As a smaller part of the concert band, the Dixie Katz specialize in practicing and performing popular hits. Tryouts are held for those interested and the group formed is a combination of talented participants.

DAILY REHEARSALS during class time require constant attention from Mike Migues and Clyde Carmouche as well as other band members.

AS PART OF an annual event, the Rebelaires presented Christmas music at a school assembly.

ENJOYING THEMSELVES while they work, the Rebelaires always provide a variety of music. Many hours are spent practicing correct vocal techniques and learning accompanying lyrics. Tunes are practiced until perfection is reached so as to provide entertainment of many different types.

As a result of the individual effort exerted by each member of Rebelaires, the group is able to prepare itself for competitive festivals at which high ratings are always received. The student body also has the pleasure of hearing a performance by this group at the annual Christmas assembly. Rebelaires not only develop the talents of many students but also provide an excellent pastime for those who enjoy music.

Sr. Y-Teens show leadership in school projects

WHILE DOROTHY PRAETORIUS presides at a Senior Y-Teen meeting, Miss Crump looks on approvingly.

AS A BRANCH organization of the YWCA, the Senior Y-Teens strive to uphold Christian ideals through service to others.

Helping to organize school activities and numerous service projects, the Y-Teens hope to develop leadership qualities, a sense of pride, and an air of enthusiasm.

During the year, the Y-Teens made trips to hospitals, nursing homes, and training centers distributing various items needed in each of the centers they visited. Also, the group was responsible for participating in the annual Y-Teen potato chip sale. Various arrangements for the Mid-Winter Ball held annually in the city were planned by the organization.

Junior, Sophomore

BOTH JUNIOR and Sophomore Y-Teens are branches of the Young Women's Christian Association. These service clubs are interested mainly in bettering Pineville High School and the community. Activities of both clubs include visiting shut-ins, writing letters to servicemen, and collecting items for hospitals.

As annual club activities, both groups participate in the city-wide Christmas project in which all Y-Teen clubs from Alexandria and Pineville take part. Again in February, both communities join in the annual Y-Teen potato chip sale.

Y-Teen members work toward the goal of being chosen to attend local and state-wide conferences. Outstanding Y-Teens from each club are able to attend the Y-Teen Mid-South Conference in the summer.

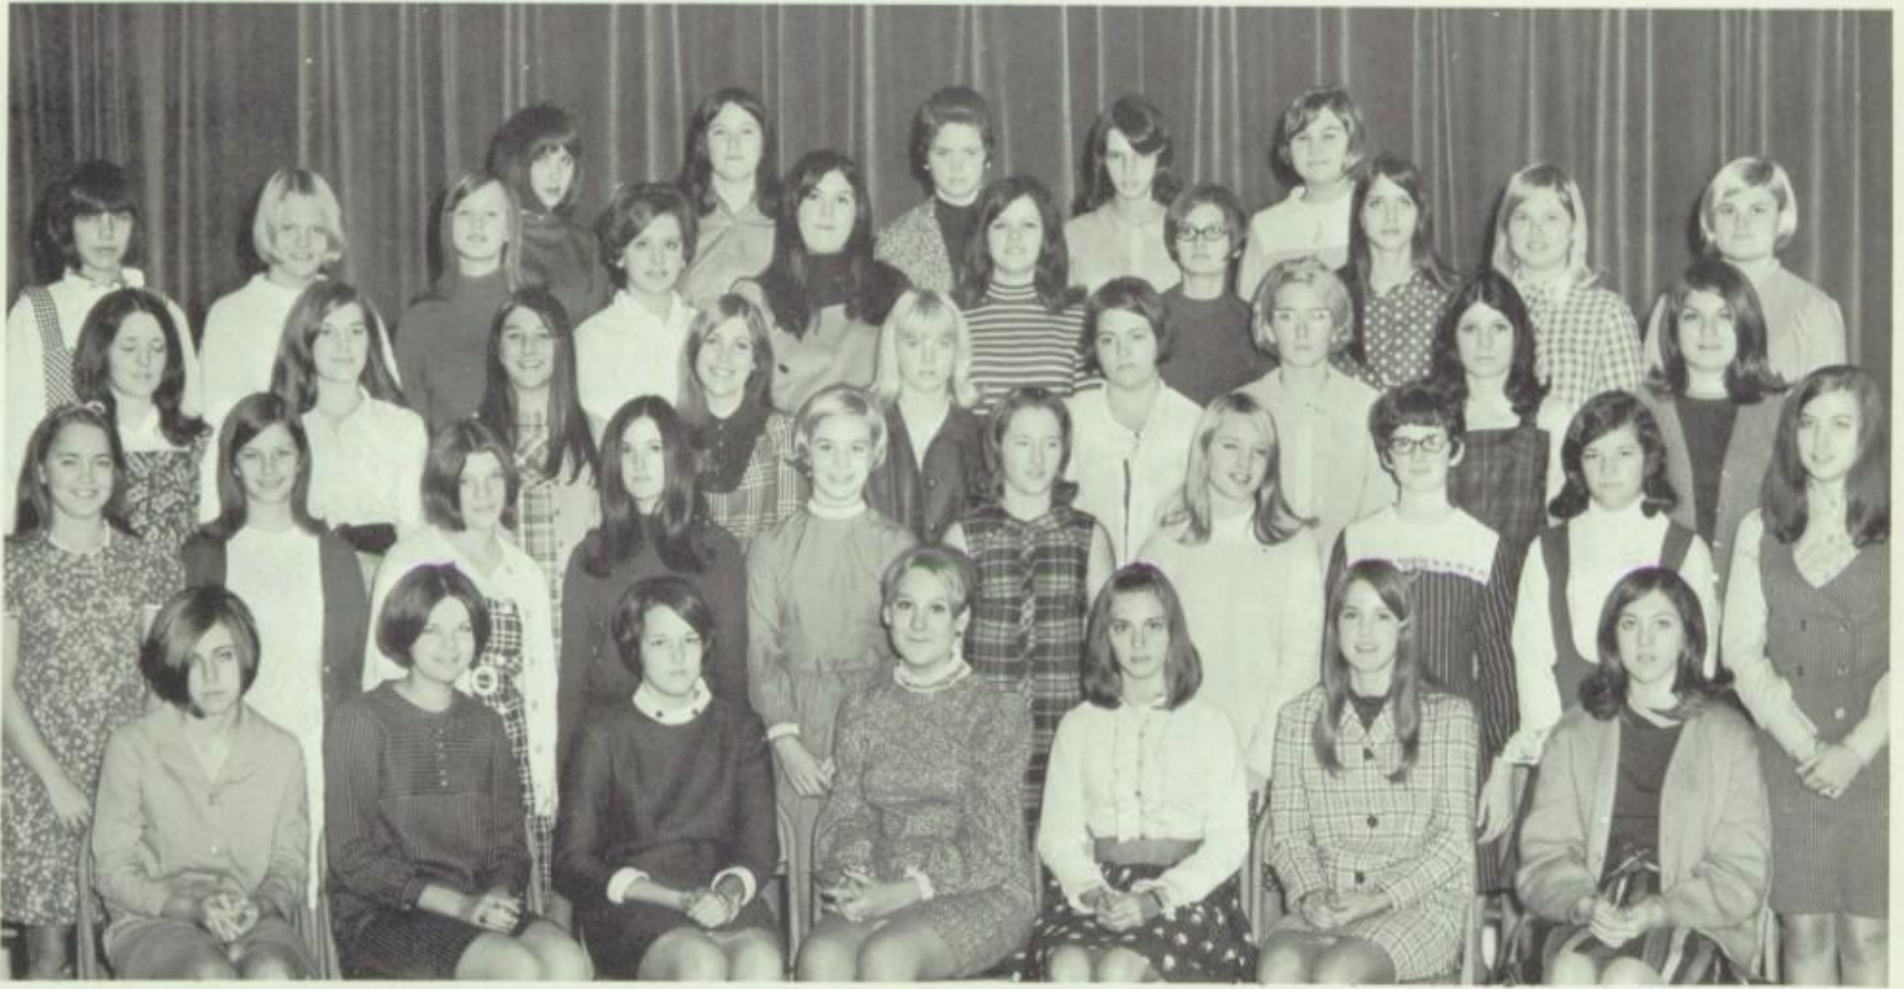

TAKING PART in the program of the Junior Y-Teen meeting, Jan Flowers discusses payment of dues.

FTA members trained for careers

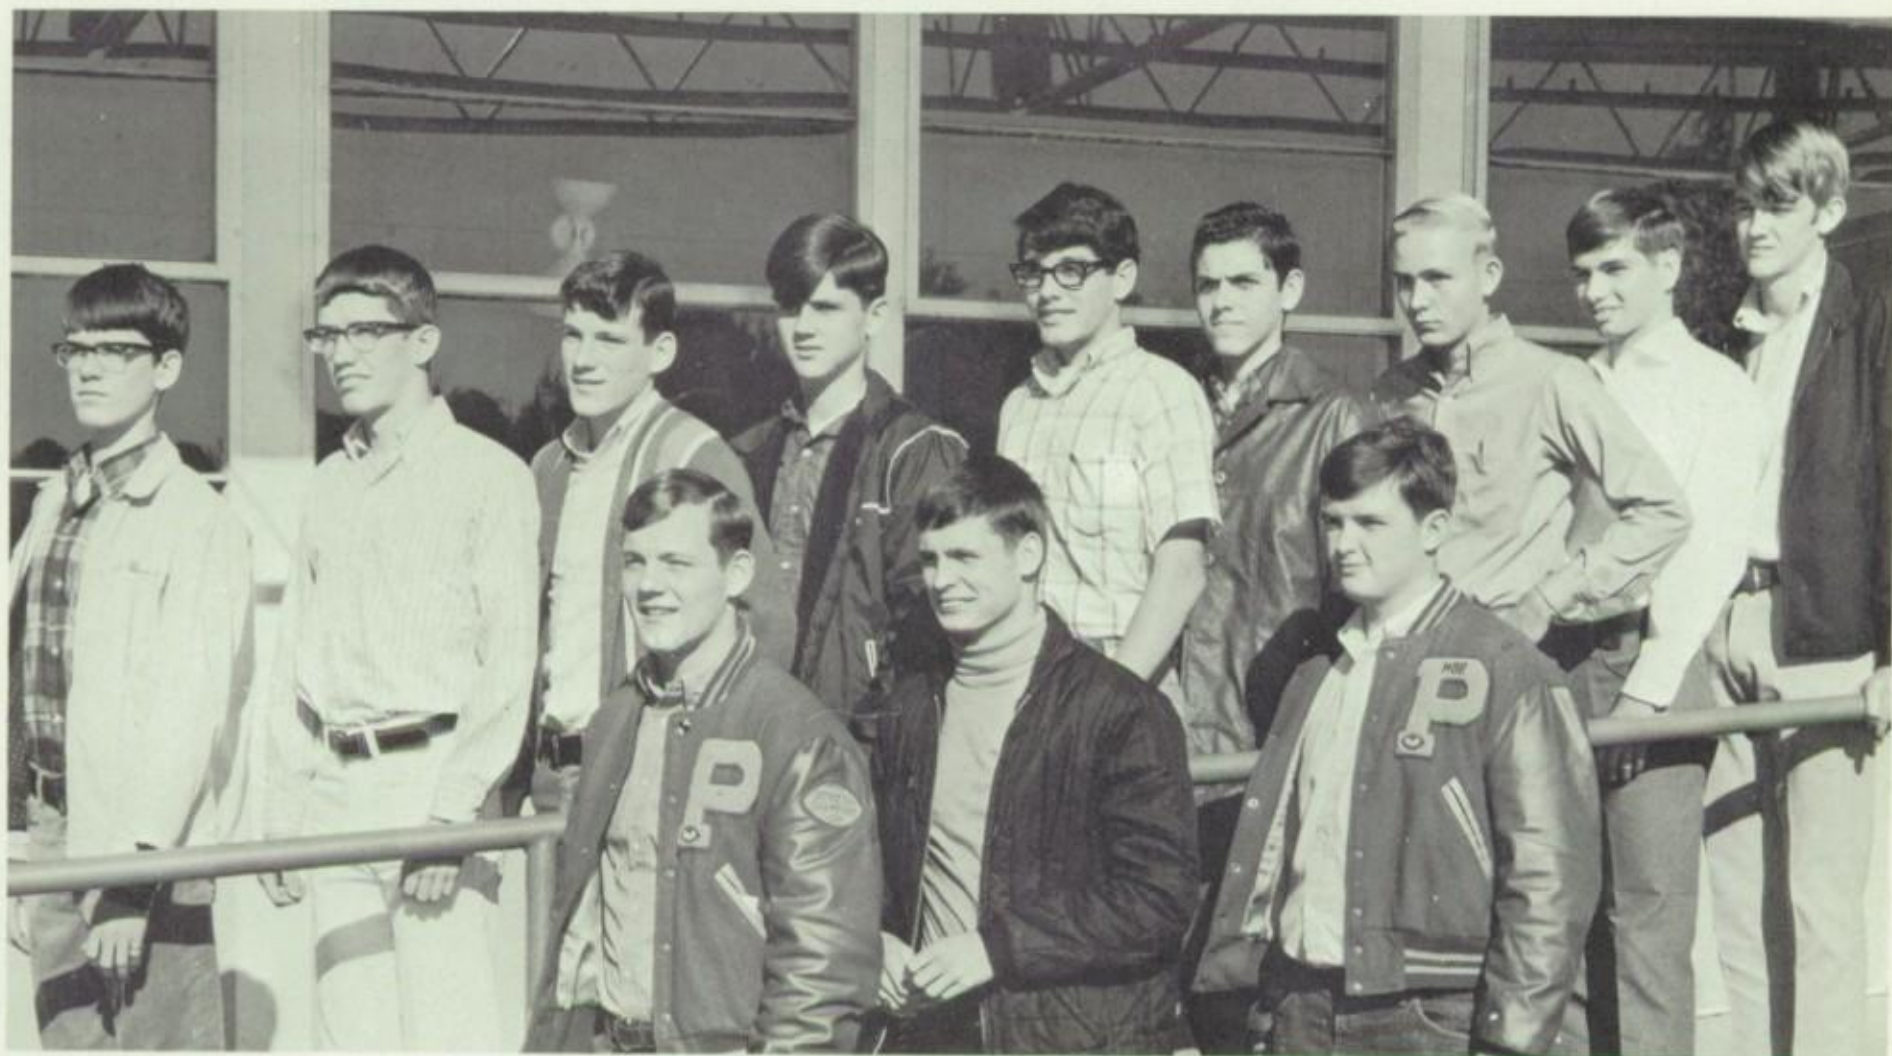

TO PREPARE many girls for their future vocations, Future Teachers of America teaches its members useful skills and ideas. Members of the group participate in the practice of assisting teachers before school. The credits earned by each girl's hard work may send her to the FTA State Conference. This privilege of attending conference is being worked toward by many members in an effort to learn new material for the club.

BUSINESS MATTERS are taken care of by President, Melissa Chappius.

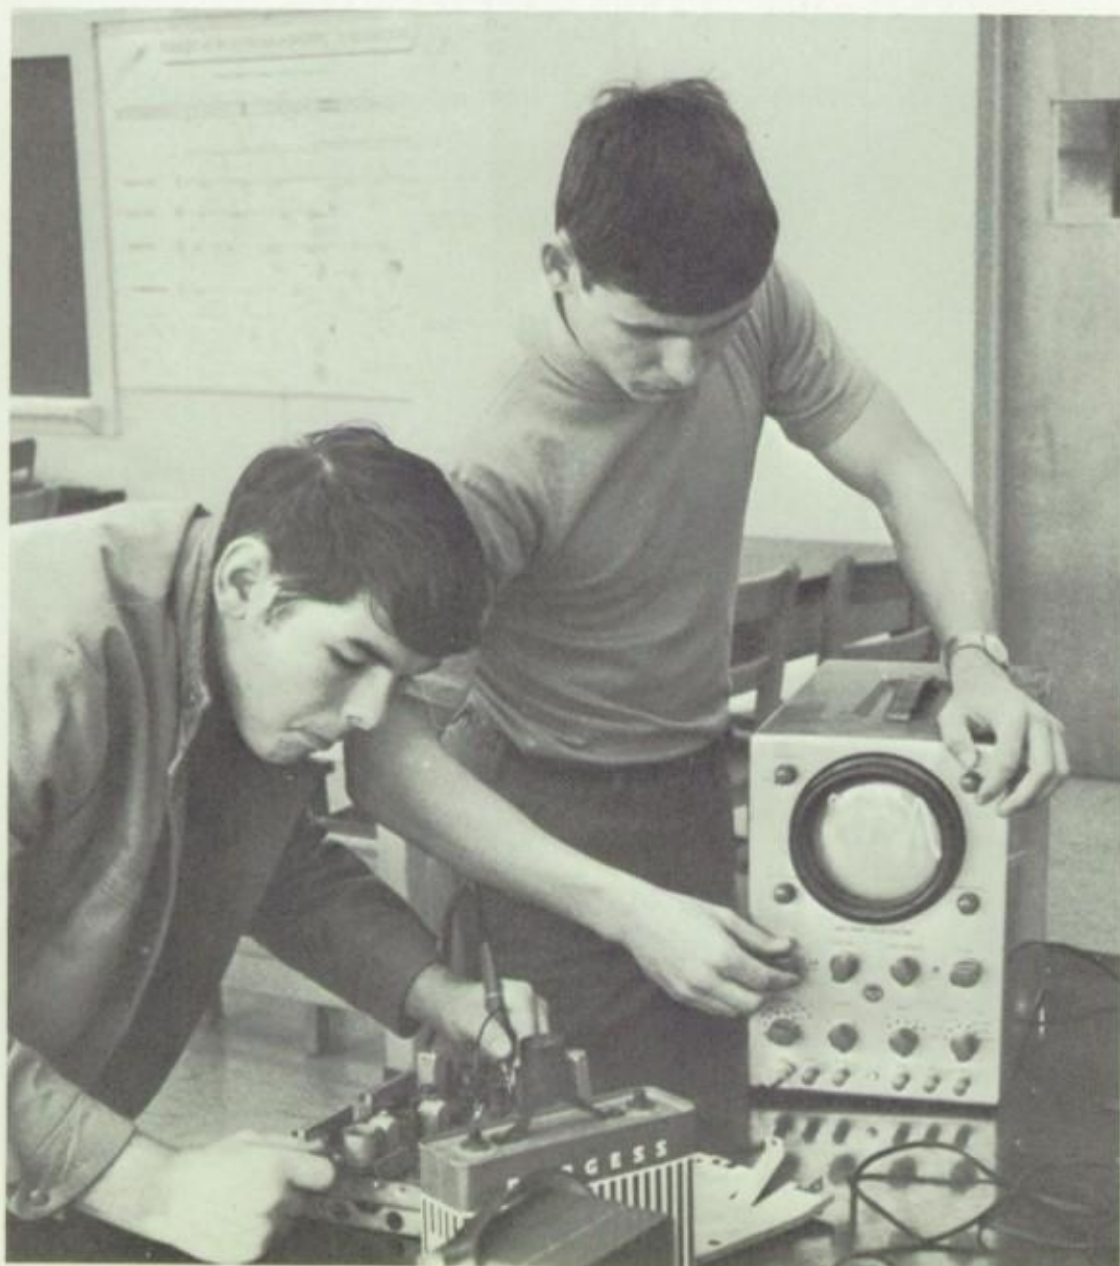

PARTICIPATION IN an FTA meeting includes a musical program in which Jeanie Lowe, Debbie Hayes, and Shelia Nugent sing along.

Students prepared for future in Jets

STUDENTS INTERESTED in physics find many activities on which to spend their time in Jets Club. The purpose of the group is to prepare members to work by themselves and with fellow members toward a specific goal.

Each participant in the club will construct an individual project as well as work in cooperation with fellow school mates who possess similar interests. As a group, the club hopes to improve the bell system and build an ultrasonic cleaner. Working to better Pineville High School, the Jets Club also plans to improve the public address system in the gymnasium and the stadium.

TO PREPARE for a Jets experiment, Ray Boone and Leon Corley begin by adjusting the oscilloscope.

LTLA members perform various tasks in library

AS LAURA HARRIS presents an idea at a Library Club meeting, members form their own opinions.

THE LOUISIANA Teen-Age Librarians Association is devoted to the encouragement of interested high school students in library science. Membership is extended to those interested in books and libraries. LTLA members are required to earn a specified number of merits each six-weeks by aiding students and teachers in the library. Students earning the most merits become delegates to the state convention.

Aims of the Future Nurses of America are assisting in local hospitals and learning the basic principles of nursing. Members of FNA work in local hospitals as "candy-strippers" and receive points for their humanitarian efforts. The Women's Auxiliary of the Rapides Parish Medical Society is the sponsor of this organization. The advisor of the Pineville High School FNA is a registered nurse.

Newly formed this year, the Government Club wishes to instill a certain knowledge of national and local government in its members. At each meeting, a guest speaker appears and lectures the members on examples of the practical application of the principles of government. Members are also urged to develop interests in forms of government other than the democracy.

PURPOSES OF THE National Red Cross are to provide food, medicine, shelter, and comfort for needy persons. A Junior Red Cross chapter carries this same principle but on a smaller scale. By supporting the National Red Cross, the JRC serves the people of Central Louisiana. Each homeroom elects a representative to the JRC council to keep that homeroom informed of the many service projects of the Junior Red Cross.

4-H represents "Head, Heart, Hands, and Health." Local sponsors of the 4-H are the county agent and the home demonstration agent. Aims of 4-H are the improvement of homemaking, animal husbandry, and agriculture. To become a member, one must be devoted to the meaningful aims of 4-H.

4-H CLUB, SEATED: Brenda Delaney, Patti McCann, Rita Williamson, Beverly Hickman. STANDING: Ronnie Sasser, Robert Green.

CHRISTMAS PROJECTS for FHA members, Martha Findley and Lynn Smith, include making decorations for their homes.

FUTURE HOMEMAKERS of America is an organization devoted to the betterment of homemaking skills. FHA is one of the largest and most active organizations at Pineville High School. Among the many ideals of members of FHA are encouraging community involvement, preparing themselves for later life, and enriching the joys of homemaking. Members of Future Homemakers of America participate in many service projects such as sponsoring holiday parties for faculty members and entertaining at local hospitals.

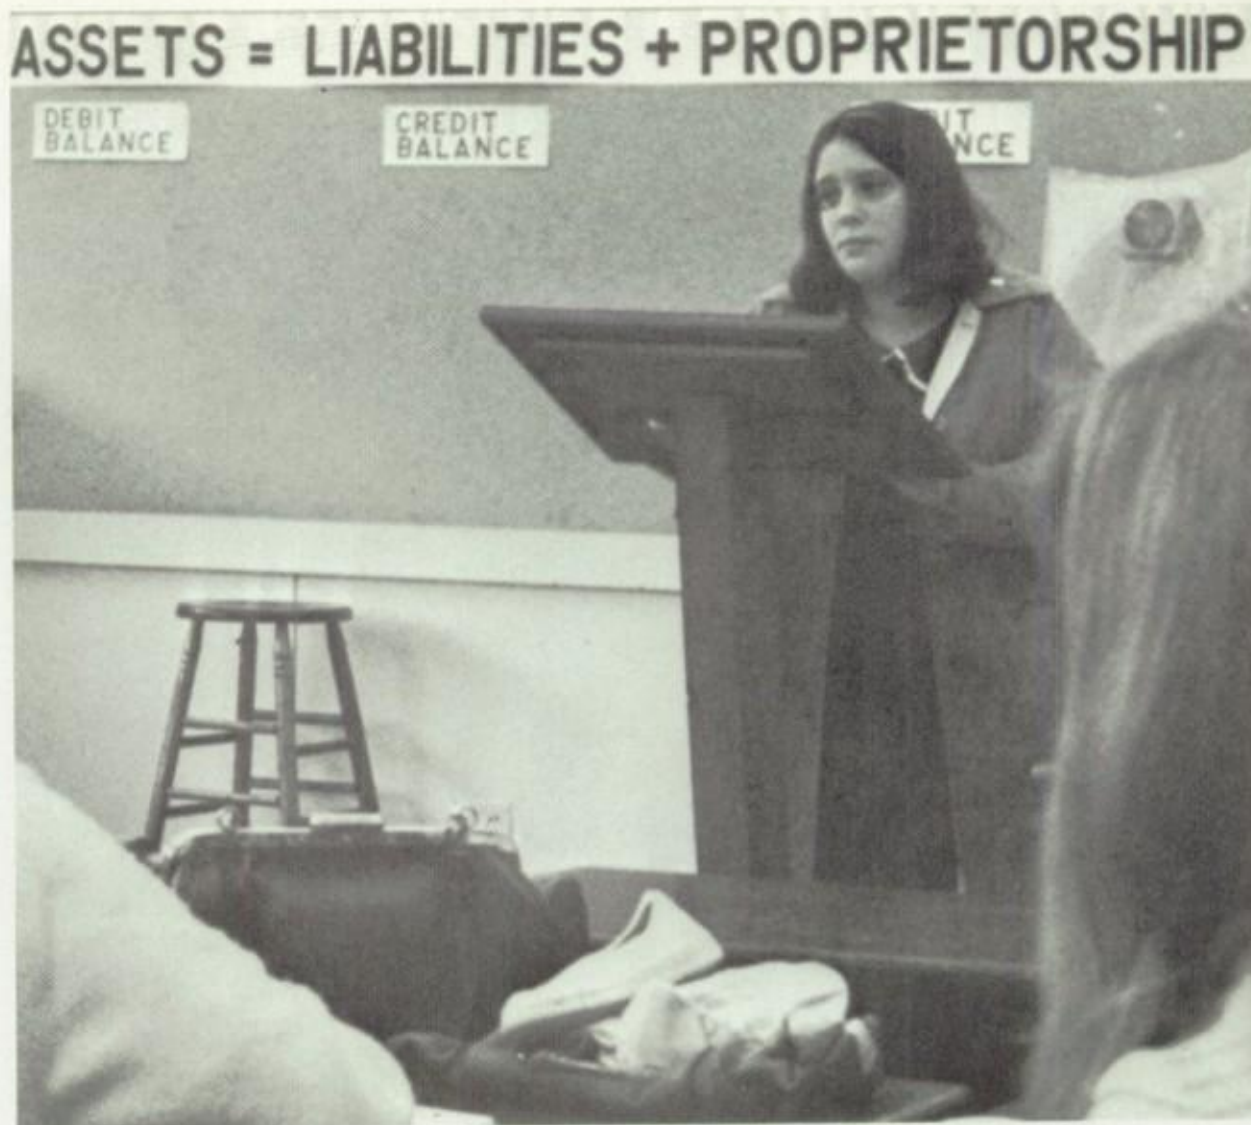

Many valuable skills and techniques are illustrated and explained at special programs. Girls belonging to the club not only enjoy learning these helpful hints but also prepare themselves for their future lives.

THIS YEAR THE Future Business Leaders of America has reorganized itself as a service club. Membership is open to all students who have successfully completed one commerce course. The chief aims of Future Business Leaders of America are to develop competent business leadership, to increase abilities in good business administration and to participate in useful projects which improve the community and its business activities. FBLA attempts to prepare students to enter large or small businesses with some basic knowledge of the problems they might face.

PRESIDENT, Pat Crawford, presides in a business-like manner at the FBLA meeting.

FBLA members prepare for life vocations

BECAUSE SHE ENJOYS her work, Paulette Hennigan is a very efficient D.E. worker.

DISTRIBUTIVE EDUCATION is a vocational subject for students who maintain average grades and who possess an interest in today's displaying, buying and selling trends. This program permits the student to maintain a job during the latter part of the day and to attend regular classes for the first half of the day. DE provides the student with valuable on-the-job training.

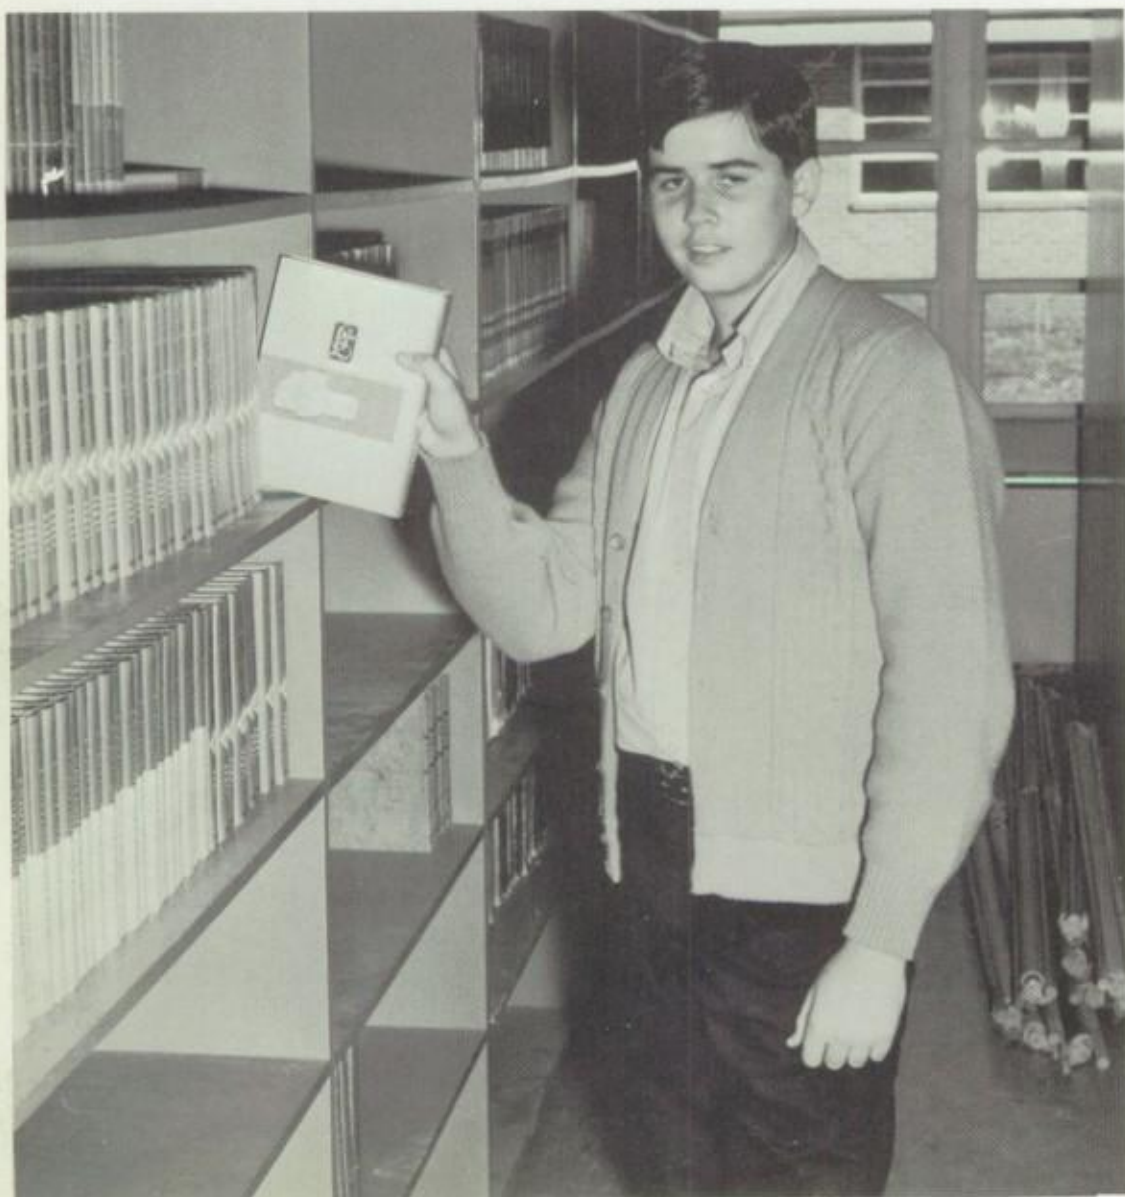

Keeping students informed of this program on the local and national levels is the main purpose of Distributive Education Clubs of America. By use of several fund-raising projects, such as the weekly do-not sale and the sale of cakes for Easter, the DE Club is able to participate in several service projects as well as to donate to charity.

Service staffs

BOOKROOM STAFF MEMBER: Jerry Ryland.

RESPONSIBILITIES OF the bookroom staff include keeping inventories, mending books, discarding old books and maintaining a lost and found department. The bookroom staff receives little recognition for its indispensable activities although they require many hours of work.

Members of the lunchroom staff provide Pineville High with something besides efficiency—helpful, cheerful service. This voluntary organization performs many duties, such as helping to prepare and serve healthful and nourishing meals and maintaining an immaculate cafeteria.

One of the oldest service groups at PHS is the office staff. Composed of girls with dependable traits and good scholastic standing, the office staff performs such services as filing records, running errands, checking absentees, and answering the telephone.

Young men interested in assisting the faculty by the use of audio-visual aids comprise the projection staff. This group renders an invaluable service to the school not only through their assistance but by making classes both interesting and informative.

IN PREPARATION for the next edition of the Ya-Hoo, editors Pinkie Humphries and Karin Farrar plan assignments for other staffers.

INFORMING THE student body and faculty of general happenings, up-to-date sports details, and interesting features is the overall objective of the Ya-Hoo Editorial Staff. Forever searching for new and unique ideas, the editors plan and lay-out ten issues of the paper during the year.

Each issue presents a fresh new challenge to the staffers who must be competent and hard working with the ability to write well and organize efficiently. In order to gain the experience necessary to publish the Ya-Hoo, the staff members attend the Northeast Louisiana State College newspaper seminar held in Monroe, Louisiana.

Ya Hoo business staffers work

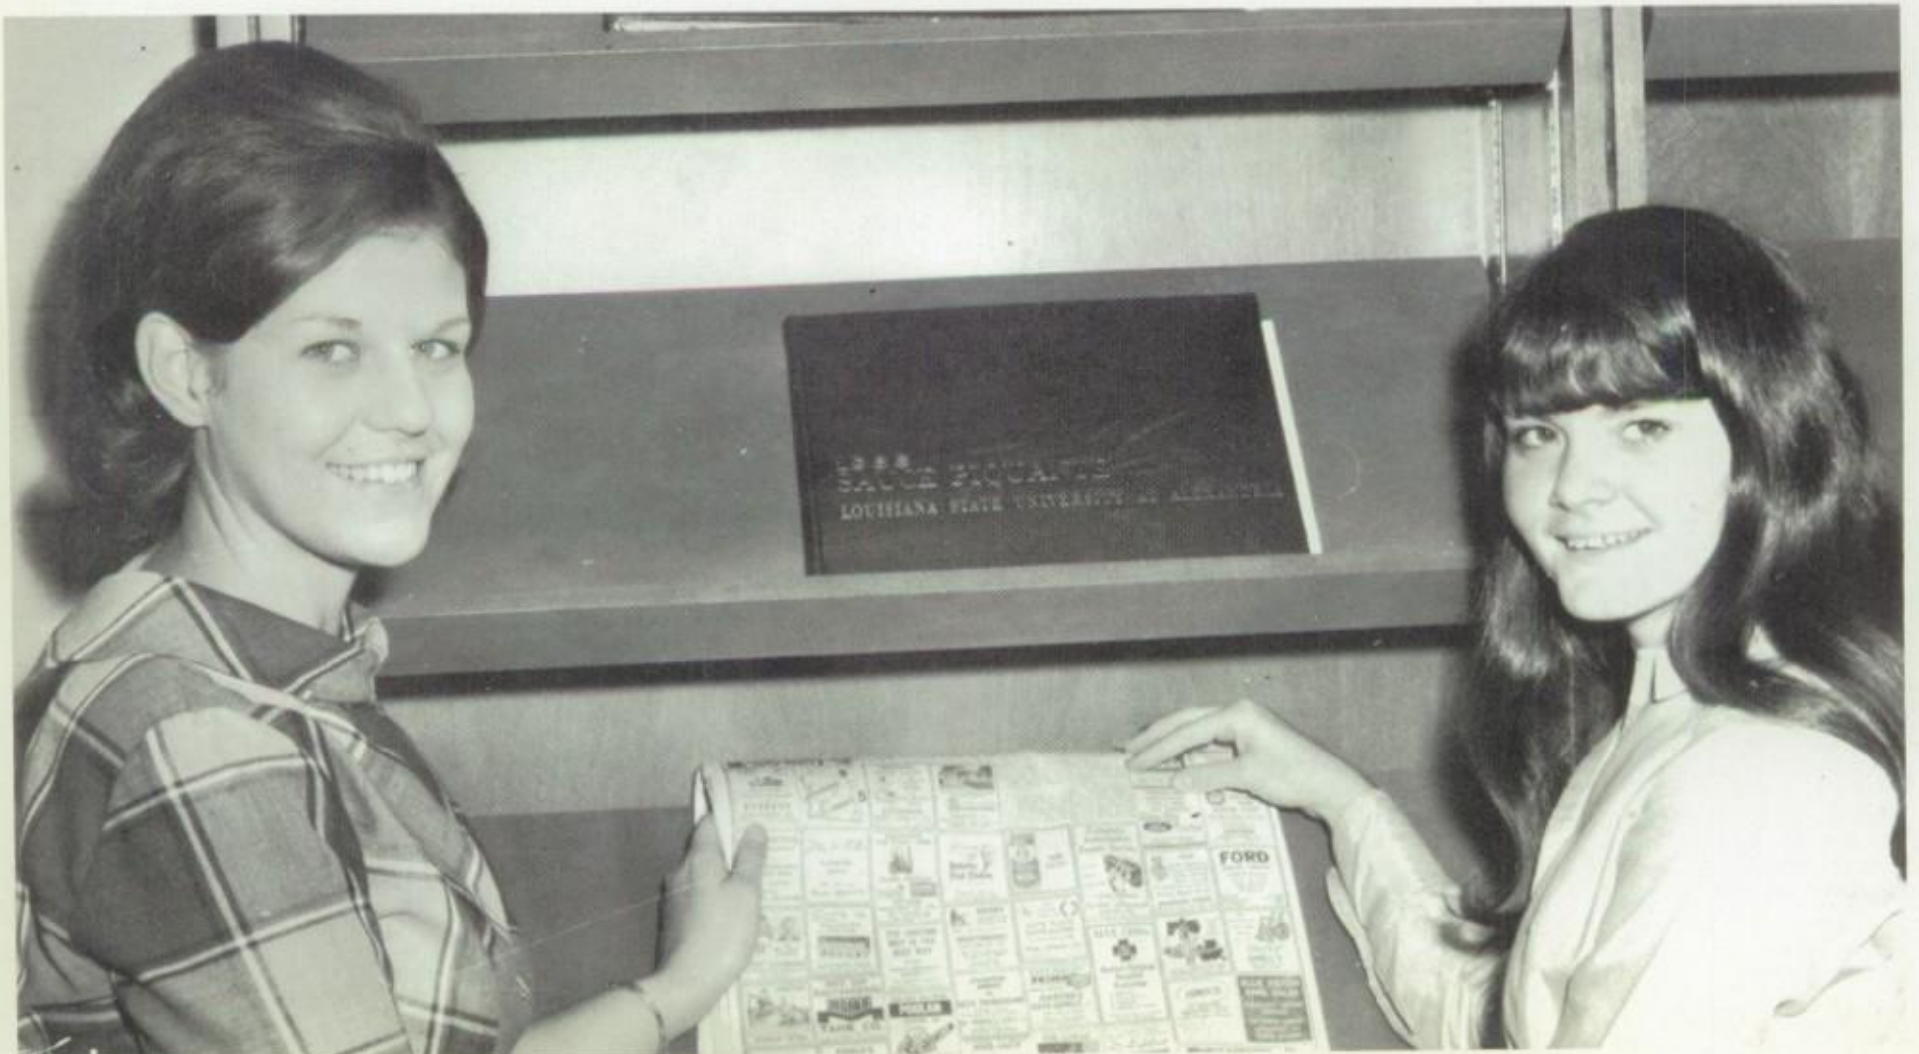

PUBLISHING A newspaper requires a tremendous amount of time and effort, not the least of which is obtaining financial support. Members of the Ya-Hoo Business Staff begin early in the summer to sell ads to local businesses and businessmen. This enables the Ya-Hoo to pay its publishing costs while simultaneously informing students. The business staff works closely with the editorial staff to produce ten interesting, informative, and amusing issues of the Ya-Hoo of Pineville High School.

As soon as the latest issue is received from the printer, members of the business staff distribute them quickly and efficiently to the students in their homerooms.

The rest of the cost is covered by the sale of yearbooks to the student body. By utilizing these sources of income, the business staff is able to secure the funds required. After the yearbooks are delivered the Kepi business staff is responsible for distributing the yearbooks. Kepi Business Staffers work year-long from the time the first Kepi is sold to the last of them is distributed.

MEMBERS OF the Kepi Editorial Staff spend many long hours in hard work to produce a well-rounded record of school activities. This diligent staff tries its best to capture and record moments, whether they be ordinary or special.

Production of the yearbook began during the summer as plans and layouts were being made. With the beginning of school came pictures and more work. Each staffer found himself cropping pictures, writing captions, and doing the other innumerable jobs.

This staff sincerely hopes that the results of its labor is an enjoyable and memorable book that will be remembered as the best.

SENIOR CLASS OFFICERS
for 1968-1969 are Karin Farrar, president, Lynn Smith, secretary, and Pinkie Humphries, treasurer. These officers have perhaps the greatest responsibility of all the class officers since they not only assist in the arrangement of senior class activities but also set an example for the other classes.

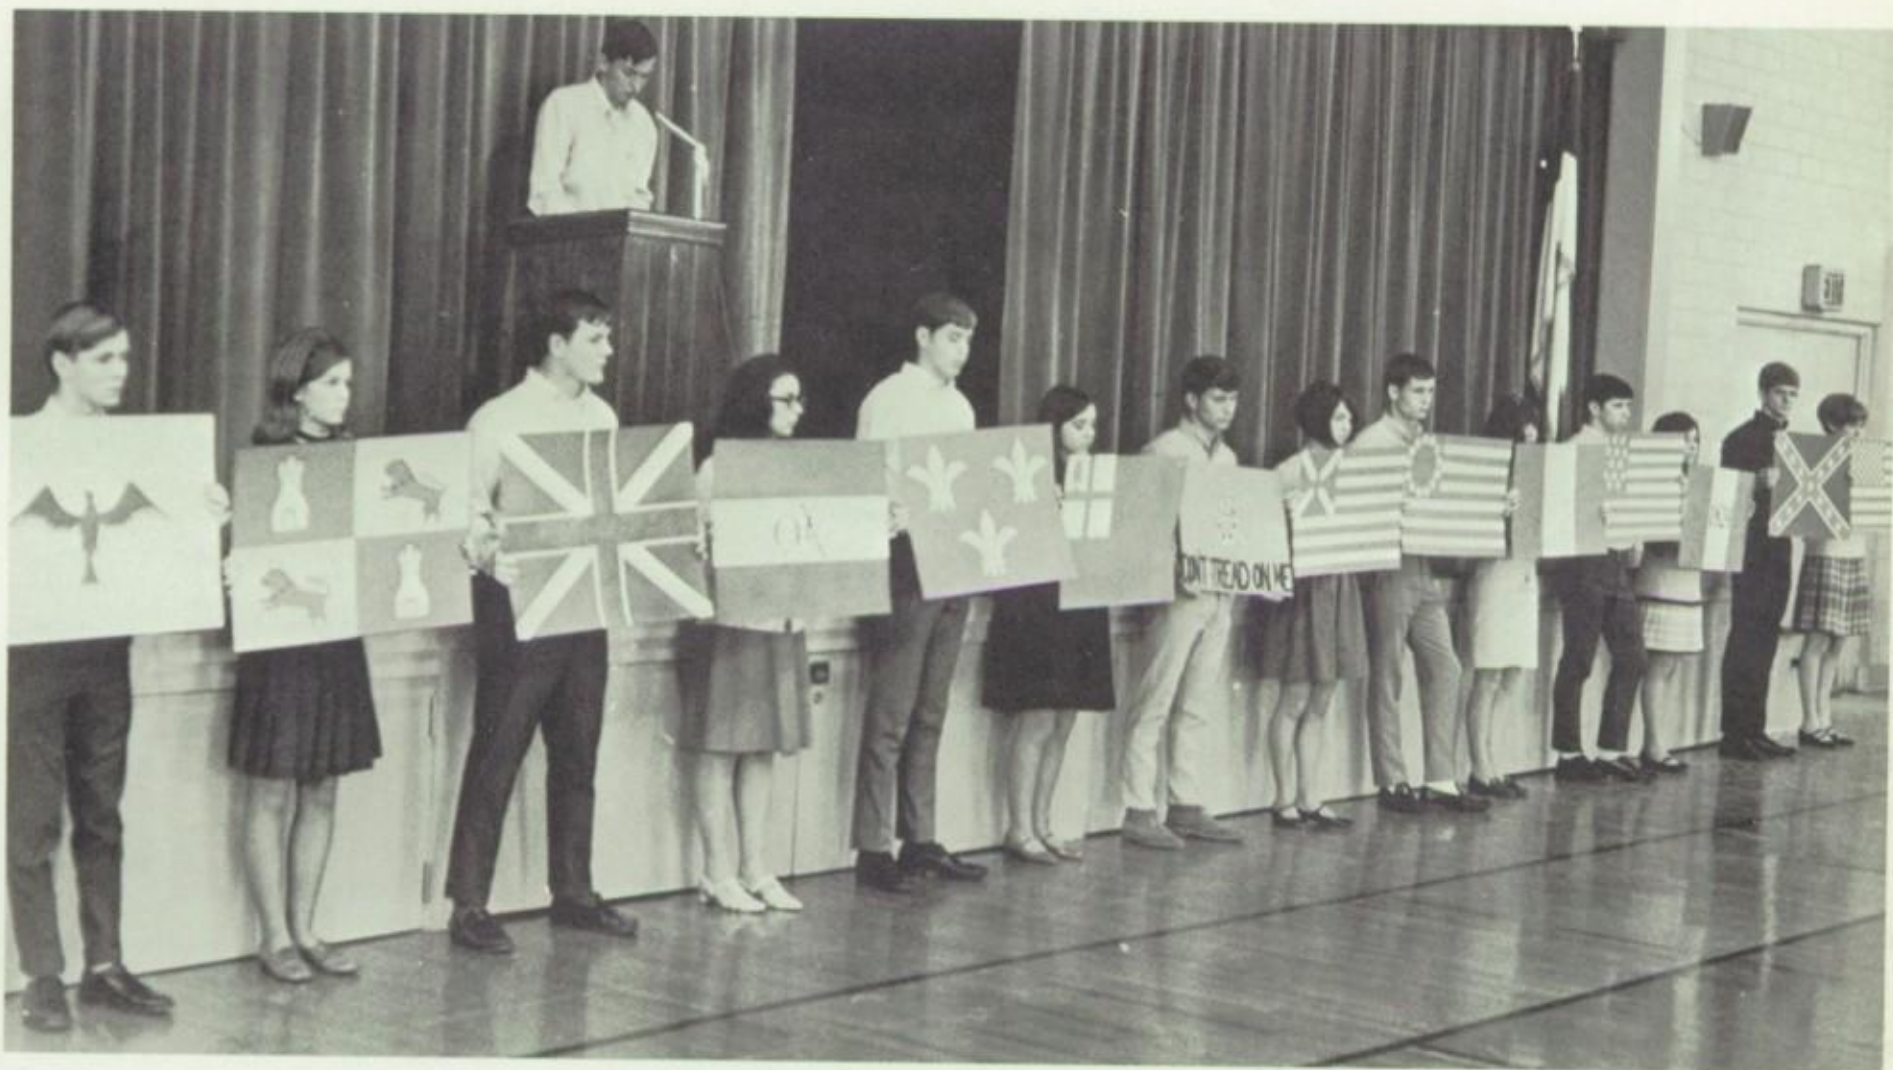

Besides serving as class president, Karin Farrar is head cheerleader, assistant editor of Ya-Hoo, and homecoming queen. National Honor Society member, Prettiest Girl, and member of Who's Who, Lynn Smith serves also as senior class secretary. Class treasurer, Pinkie Humphries, works as drum majorette, Ya-Hoo editor-in-chief, and a class favorite.

BELOW—BECAUSE THEIR SCHEDULE has been rushed, Senior Personalities stop to rest on the merry-go-round in the park.

CLASS OFFICERS are chosen by their fellow class members as the people they would most like to guide them through the ensuing school year. Officers of the 1968-1969 Junior Class have displayed the necessary leadership, intelligence and eagerness to accept responsibility to make this a successful year.

Serving as president is William Cavanaugh. He is Co-Editor of the Ya-Hoo, a member of National Honor Society, Key Club and the Government Club, and participates in varsity basketball and track. William also serves as assistant Sports Editor for Kepi.

Vice-president, Vic Sooter, also participates in basketball, Key Club, and the Government Club in addition to being a Student Council Representative.

The Junior Class secretary is Debbie Mangum. Debbie is in Y-Teens, F.H.A., Rebel Misses, and National Honor Society.

In addition to being class treasurer, Roxanne Gaspard is a Dixie Darling, a Rebel Miss, a Y-Teen and a member of F.H.A.

The world of advertising has developed into a multi-million dollar industry. Although the amount of advertising given to the Pineville High School measures only a fraction of this total, the appreciation and gratitude of this staff to the advertisers is extremely great. We highly respect each business establishment for their concern about PHS and its student body by patronizing the Kepi.

SYMBOLIC OF hours of work well spent, Kepi of years gone by rest beneath the true Kepi. Each Kepi represents a school year packed with excitement, happiness, heartbreak, and nostalgia. The 1969 Kepi represents just such a year and will soon be placed among other relics of the past, to moulder on a dusty shelf until a longing to relive the incidents of long time past strikes. Then the Kepi becomes as valuable as it was when that special person signed it so long ago. May this Kepi remain a valuable and prized possession for all time.
